ITALY NOT ENTERING WAR

Such Is Deduction After Hitler-Mussolini Meeting

Mussolini And Hitler Confer For Three Hours

Talk In Absolute Privacy At First; Then Summon Close Advisers

HAVE CONFERENCE IN RAILWAY CAR

Momentous Meeting Takes Place At Brenner Pass During Morning

By PERCY WINNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, March 18.—First in absolute privacy, and later flanked by close advisers, Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler held their fifth and possibly most momentous conference in the isolation of a railway carriage at the Brenner Pass today.

The entire proceeding, cloaked in utmost secrecy, lasted only three hours.

At 10:10 a. m. the Fuehrer arrived in the little border town of Brennero by special train and after brief formalities entered Mussolini's private saloon car where for an hour they talked completely alone and unattended, with even their respective foreign ministers excluded from participation.

Others Join

Then Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop, the latter of whom engineered the meeting on his last visit to Rome, were called in and a two-hour discussion ensued in what was termed a most cordial atmosphere.

At 1:11 p. m., three hours and one minute after his arrival, Hitler started his journey back to Berlin. At that time, no official light had been thrown on the purpose or nature of the conference.

When their conversation was over, Mussolini and the Fuehrer appeared in the vestibule of the latter's private car.

They walked down the steps chatting cordially, and as Italian troops

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Easter falls on March 24 this year for the second time since the introduction of the Gregorian calendar in 1582. It came on March 24 in 1799 and after this year will not be on that date again until 2391 A. D. explains A. Pogo of Cambridge, Mass., in a letter to the New York Times. March 24 as the date of Easter is more unusual, in the Gregorian calendar, than the earliest possible Easter date, March 22. Since 1582, Easter has fallen on March 22 in 1589, 1693, 1761 and 1818. Next Easter Sunday on March 22 will be in 2285, Pogo reported.

Maundy Thursday Service Of Commemoration Takes Place In Cathedral

JUDGE READER GIVES ADDRESS

With a large audience in attendance, including members of the Masonic fraternity and friends, the annual Maundy Thursday services of New Castle Rose Croix Chapter, H. R. D. M., took place in The Cathedral Sunday afternoon, when the Solemn Ceremonial Feast of the Paschal Lamb was observed.

During the course of the service, the memory of 88 members of the Chapter, who have passed on during the year, was recalled as well as that of four members of the Supreme Council, a candle which had been lighted for each, being extinguished during the service, while a rose was placed in a large cross at the rear of the stage by officers of the Chapter.

Beaver Judge Speaks

Hon. Frank E. Reader, a member of the Chapter, and presiding judge of the several courts of Beaver County, was the speaker of the day. He gave a splendid address in which he pointed out the fact that the supreme achievement of man is the establishment of individual character.

Italian Newspaper Sees Early Decision

(International News Service)

ROME, March 18.—The last week of March will see a decision between a general western offensive or a compromise peace, the Italian newspaper Lavoro Fascista reported from Berlin today.

"The majority of Germans anticipate an offensive," the paper said.

German circles closest to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's line of reasoning interpret the success of German air raids on Scapa Flow as proof of the imminence of smashing military action."

Deny Welles To Meet Hitler And Mussolini

(International News Service)

ROME, March 18.—The American embassy today denied a report that American Under Secretary of State Welles will confer jointly with Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini "somewhere in Italy."

May Repeat Tour?

London, March 18.—Diplomatic circles in London expressed belief today that American Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles may repeat his tour of Berlin, Paris and London, depending on the outcome of the conference today between Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

Pope Receives Welles

Vatican City, March 18.—Pope Pius XII today received American Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles in private audience in the Pontiff's private library at the Vatican.

Welles was presented to his holiness by Myron C. Taylor, President Roosevelt's special "peace envoy" to the Holy See. Taylor was present throughout the meeting.

The American diplomat's conference with the Pope ended at 10:55 a. m., after which he visited Cardinal Maglione, Papel Secretary of State.

Meanwhile, there were reports that the Pope will issue a new peace plea to the world before Easter.

Welles originally was scheduled to sail for the United States tomorrow aboard the Conte Di Savoia, but it was understood the ship's departure had been deferred to permit the American diplomat more time in Rome.

Britain Sees Peace Tieup To Conference

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 18.—Although still puzzled over the scope and nature of the Hitler-Mussolini conference at the Brenner Pass, the London press today warned the British government not to reject any peace offer out of hand.

Such an attitude would be dangerous, it was emphasized, enabling Adolf Hitler to tell the world that intransigeance of the western powers had wrecked peace hopes.

Edtiorials urged Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain to restate the Allied peace terms boldly in a speech to the House of Commons tomorrow. His address is already being heralded as "one of the most important of the war."

Wild rumors continued to circulate regarding significance of the Brenner Pass meeting, with the majority of commentators seeing it as a peace move. British officialdom continued to claim that it was uninformed and not particularly interested in the conference, but Whitehall obviously was awaiting elucidation.

Dozen Members Of Murder Ring Are Held By Police

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—More than a score of New York's most vicious gangland murders were declared solved today by District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn with the round-up of a dozen members of an alleged murder syndicate which called itself "the combination".

At least nine killings were blamed on the rounded-up suspects by a nervous, self-confessed "trigger man", Abraham "Pretty" Levine, 24, who talked volubly, according to police, out of fear that he himself was marked for execution.

Firemen Answer Trio Of Alarms

City firemen answered three alarms over the week-end, none of which was for a fire of any consequence.

Saturday afternoon at 5:32 o'clock seventh ward firemen were called to the home of Stanley Glink, 110 Swansea avenue, when the furnace puffed out and ignited a piece of canvass hanging from the cellar ceiling.

At 9:54 p. m. Sunday firemen were called to the corner of Jefferson and Maitland streets by an alarm from box 85, when someone set fire to an old baby buggy in the street, and an alarm was sounded needlessly.

At 11:52 p. m., Sunday firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Rose Otto, 1025 West Washington street, when the motor of an electric refrigerator stalled, causing damage of around $15.

Nazis Contend Large British Ships Damaged

Direct Bomb Hits Are Scored In Scapa Flow Attack Is Claim

BRITISH ADMIT SOME DAMAGE

(International News Service)

BERLIN, March 18.—Major Fritz Doensch, commander of the German air squadron which raided Scapa Flow Saturday night, contended today that his airmen scored direct bomb hits on some of Britain's most powerful warships, including the mighty battle cruiser Hood and two vessels of the Renown and Repulse class.

"Some of the ships were partly lifted from the water by the force of the explosions," he declared.

(The British admiralty admitted one warship was damaged slightly and said one civilian was killed and seven others, including two women, were wounded, while the navy itself suffered seven casualties.)

Major Doensch said his squadron also silenced an anti-aircraft battery on Farar island in Scapa Flow.

London, March 18.—Germany's Saturday night air raid on Scapa Flow today brought widespread demands in the British press for an explanation of the apparent weakness of the naval base defenses.

Abandon Hope For 69 Miners In Ohio Disaster

Rescuers Work Frantically In Attempt To Reach Entombed Miners

TERRIFIC BLAST OCCURRED SATURDAY

Hundred And Thirteen Of Men In Mine Are Safely Out It Is Reported

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEFFS, O., March 18.—With 113 miners safely out, all hope was abandoned today for the 69 men entombed in the subterranean channels of section 22 south of the Willow Grove working of the Hanna Coal Company, wrecked by a disasterous gas explosion Saturday.

Two of the 71 men trapped in the blast sector were brough out dead early today, bringing the known death toll to four.

After a survey of conditions as weary rescue workers continued their grimy task, John Owens, president of district six, United Mine Workers of America, declared:

"It will be a miracle if these men are alive."

Owens and mine company president R. L. Ireland, directing rescue operations which have been underway since the first terrific blast rocked the workings at noon Saturday, reported they were within 600 feet of the first east entrance to section 22. They said the mouth of the entrance was choked with "flattened steel and iron that was once mine cars."

May Reach Section Today

There was a possibility that the toiling rescue crews might reach the blasted section this afternoon.

The first actual explosion victims were brought to the surface early this morning. They were identified as John Marks, a motorman, and Ross McFadden, a shop firer. Other known dead included John Richards, mine superintendent, and Howard Sanders, outside foreman.

Marks and McFadden were trapped when their trainload of "emptys" was literally lifted from the tracks by the terrific force of the explosion. Richards and Sanders lost their lives when they attempted to enter the mine without gas masks after the explosion.

United States Awaits Report

American Officials Eagerly Await Diplomatic Reports On Hitler-Mussolini Meeting

PRESIDENT STILL HAS GRIP ATTACK

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—American officials today eagerly awaited diplomatic reports from Europe on the momentous conference between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, believing their talk might have a profound influence on the future of Europe.

Lacking official reports, however, the State Department declined to comment on the Hitler-Mussolini talk or upon the European activities of Sumner Welles, President Roosevelt's special envoy to Europe.

Despite a lingering cold, President Roosevelt was receiving all reports out of Europe as Hitler and Mussolini conferred, the White House announced.

President Secretary Stephen Early disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt, still registering a degree of fever, had been ordered to stay in bed for the next two or three days as a "precautionary" step, but that the executive was nevertheless examining all incoming information from Europe. All engagements were cancelled except the presentation of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, head of the German Red Cross, by Norman Davis, American Red Cross chairman.

Dahl Arrives In New York

American Aviator, Held Prisoner In Spain, For Months, Back In U. S.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, March 18.—Saved from one of Gen. Francisco Franco's firing squads by the platinum blonde loveliness of his wife, Aviator Harold E. Dahl, 30, who flew with the Spanish loyalist forces in Spain, was back in America today, a sadder, wiser and poorer man.

Dahl arrived with five other Americans released by Franco on the American freighter Exiria at Jersey City yesterday and was greeted by his wife, Edith, who reputedly saved him from death by sending a photograph of herself along with her plea of mercy to Franco.

While cameras ground away, Dahl's wife gave him a greeting, the intensity of which was slightly diminished by her fear that her makeup would be spoiled. Later, they left the dock in separate automobiles.

Dahl returned to America after many months in a Spanish prison camp broke, overcoatless, without future plans and facing a Los Angeles forgery charge.

"I never had any business going over there," he admitted. "To be frank, I didn't know what it was all about when I went over."

Dahl said he had hired out for $1,500 a month and a $1,000 bonus for each plane he brought down. He said he collected $6,000, of which $2,000 was for planes shot down. He was a Franco prisoner from July 12, 1937, when his plane was shot down, until last Feb. 22 when he was released.

Berlin Claims Italy May Join At Later Date

Asserts Italy Will Enter On Nazi Side If Strategical Advantage Should Arise

TWO DICTATORS "STAND TOGETHER"

Little Accurate Information Is Given On Brenner Pass Parley Of Day

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, March 18.—Italy will enter Europe's war on the side of Nazi Germany whenever it is strategically advantageous for Premier Mussolini to abandon his present policy of non-belligerency, informed German quarters said today.

Commenting on the "cordial and hearty" conversation between Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at the Brenner Pass, official circles said that the two dictators agreed that the present war can end only with creation of a "new order" in Europe.

Italy Not Ready To Enter

There are no immediate indications that Italy is now ready to take the "plunge" to aid Germany militarily, or that today's conference was designed toward that end. Mussolini, who knows what he wants, will make his decision regarding participation in the war or continued non-belligerency "in such a manner and at such a time as he thinks fit."

The impression was given by authorized spokesmen that Germany is making no effort to force Italy into the war, realizing that the present

Reports Persist New Peace Plan Brought To Rome

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

ROME, March 18.—Reports persisted today that in his conversation with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at the Brenner Pass, Premier Mussolini produced a new Anglo-French peace proposal brought to Rome by American Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles.

This proposal, it was reported, suggested a conference of Germany, Great Britain and France to effect a compromise on all matters affecting Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Balkans, and the Near East.

In addition, the reports said, Britain would agree to return of Germany's war-lost colonies in exchange for "modification" of the Reich's friendly attitude toward Soviet Russia.

The proposal was reported in diplomatic circles to have been brought to Rome by Welles on his return from Paris and London.

Early Adjournment Plan Affected

Demand Action On Controversial Issues Before Congress Adjourns

DEMOCRATS SEEK EARLY SESSION END

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Administration plans for a peaceful and early adjournment of congress were rudely shattered today as Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, leader of the 167 house Republicans, demanded action on bitterly-controversial measures.

Martin declared that the Republicans are "willing to stay in Washington all summer to do what ought to be done" in the way of legislation. He outlined two immediate, major goals for the Republican minority in the house. They were:

1. Passage of the Logan-Walter bill curbing "autocratic" powers of more than 100 government bureaus and administration agencies.

2. Passage of the Hatch clean politics bill, which is expected to be approved by the senate.

The administration goal, with a national election campaign approaching, admittedly has been to suppress controversy. Party harmony was strained during the reciprocal trade treaty resolution in the house, and rudely shattered by the Hatch bill fight in the senate.

The Republicans, Martin indicated, will fight for consideration of other important measures also.

The Logan-Walter bill, which grants court review of rulings of administrative agencies such as the National Labor Relations board, has been sent to the floor, reported by the house judiciary committee, and a rule granted for its consideration.

ABANDON HOPE FOR 71 MINERS IN OHIO DISASTER

modern mine, the working was visited in 1936 by the first lady of the land, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. It is located in southeastern Ohio, five miles below St. Clairsville, due west of Wheeling, W. Va.

Theory On Blast

The theory was advanced here that the miners in section 22 possibly ran into the old, unchartered "Methodist Oil and Gas Ridge," and that gas gushed into the section before the men could make their escape.

This theory would coincide with the "swish" one of the men who escaped said he heard just a second before the explosion let go. So shattering was the blast that a 16-ton engine was thrown directly on its back, freight cars were flattened out into sheets and the 85-pound rails were broken into bits as if they were pencils.

The men were working in what is known as a "butt-end" section, where there is no ventilation. This, added to the force of the explosion and the time the men were trapped, led to the conclusion that they will probably not be brought out alive.

Hope Given Up

Officials of the U. S. Bureau of Mines were the first to give up hope for the men entombed 150 feet below the earth's surface, although company officials have been pessimistic since the news of the blast was first relayed to them.

The only thing that has been held out for the trapped miners was that they "might possibly" have built a wall between themselves and the deadly "black damp".

A full statement, by Owens, follows:

"President Ireland and I surveyed 22 south and its approximately 71 men trapped Saturday. We are within 600 feet of the first east entrance—known as third east.

"There has been a terrific explosion which trapped a motor trip on its way in and this entry was blocked by falls of slate which required rescue crews to clean up in order to recover these men. They have a Whaley (automatic) loading machine and other equipment, with the most competent men connected with the Ohio and West Virginia mining departments and the Federal Bureau of Mines doing everything in their power to get these men to the surface.

"Nothing is being left undone by the company and the mining departments to recover these men as soon as possible."

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Margaret Ryan Walzer.

Mrs. Margaret Ryan Walzer, aged 66 years, of 1501 East Washington street, died at her home Saturday evening at 7:15 o'clock, after an illness.

A lifelong resident of New Castle, Mrs. Walzer, the widow of Chris J. Walzer, who died in May, 1922, was born here August 15, 1873. She was the daughter of William and Sarah Nolan Ryan, and was a member of a family of six children, of whom one member, William, at home, survives.

Mrs. Walzer, well known throughout the city, was active in the work of St. Mary's church, of the New Castle Hospital club and in the local unit of the Catholic Daughters of America.

Funeral mass will be conducted in St. Mary's church Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Douglass.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Douglass, aged 83 years, of Scott township, died at her home Saturday at 2:50 p. m. from complications after an illness of six weeks' duration.

She was the widow of Samuel Milton Douglass.

Mrs. Douglass was born in Scott township March 30, 1856, the daughter of David and Levina Pounds Harlan, and she had resided all her life in that township.

She had been a lifelong member of Harlansburg Baptist church.

Surviving Mrs. Douglass are two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Cameron, Scott township, and Miss Jennie Douglass, at home, and one brother, William Harlan, of Princeton. Two sisters, Miss Mary Harlan and Mrs. Ella Campbell, both of Scott township, also survive. Five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren are left.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday, March 20 at 2:30 p. m. from Harlansburg Baptist church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Welker Carter

Welker Carter, for years one of New Wilmington's prominent painters, died at his home at 219 North Market street, New Wilmington, this morning at 4 o'clock, after an illness of six months' duration. Mr. Carter was 84 last December.

Hitler At Window

Hitler stood at the window and saluted Mussolini as an Italian band played "Deutschland Uber Alles."

Twenty minutes after the Fuehrer's departure, Il Duce went back aboard his own train and started back to Rome.

Throughout the conference, which diplomatic sources in Rome were convinced revolved about relations between Italy and Soviet Russia, snow fell "thout a break. All train traffic through the gateway between Germany and Italy was halted while the meeting was in progress.

It was a meeting reminiscent of those between European crowned heads in the days before the World war.

Council Rejects Exoneration Plea At Present Time

Relative to the request of Earnest Crawford of the Bus Terminal, North Jefferson street, for exoneration of taxes, city council in meeting today refused the request upon advice of assistant to the city solicitor, Gilbert E. Long. The terminal concern was willing to pay taxes on the building but not the ground because they claim it is municipally-owned.

Long told council that the outcome of the suit brought by Shenango township for taxes on Cascade Park will have a bearing on the situation and he said no action should be taken relative to Crawford's request.

A HELP TO NEW CASTLE
Time and time again, people whom funeral directors bring to our showroom to select their funeral furnishings, commend us on having such a wonderful display for the use of the funeral director in this community, and how fine it is to be able to see such a large selection, and see so many things that a funeral director would not be expected to keep but which is kept only in a wholesale showroom.
This is not only a help to the funeral directors and the people who are called upon to select funeral furnishings, but it brings outside people to our city, and also brings a lot of outside money that is spent in this community, that would go elsewhere.
If your funeral director has never brought you to our showroom, we will be only too glad to have you come at any time, and see the large display of funeral furnishings that we keep, and this will be courteously done, regardless of who your funeral director may be.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812 AT PINKERTON HOME

Daughters of 1812, were received in the home of Mrs. F. A. Pinkerton of the Harbor on Saturday afternoon for their usual assembly, the routine period being presided over by president, Miss Sara Wallace.

Reports were given by committee heads, and delegates were elected to the Pennsylvania Council, to be held May 23 and 24 in Scranton, Pa., including Miss Viola Wallace and Mrs. F. A. Pinkerton. Alternates are Mrs. J. B. Waddington, Mrs. W. H. Luikart and Mrs. W. H. Weinschenk.

At this gathering, a picture entitled "Lake Erie" was contributed to the Daughters of 1812 by Millard Greer of Rosslyn Farms, Pittsburgh, in memory of his mother, the late Mrs. Grace M. Greer, who was a faithful member of the organization.

Mrs. S. E. McCleary, a real daughter of 1812, is celebrating her 96th birthday anniversary, which is of interest to many.

On April 20, the membership will be received in the home of Mrs. Carrie Ailey, for a similar meeting.

DEWEY AND VANDENBERG

IN LESS than thirty days the country will have a glimpse of the going qualities of Dewey and Vandenberg respectively. Both aspirants for the Republican nomination for president are entered in the Wisconsin primaries April 2.

The presidential preference vote in Wisconsin will be a wide open affair, any qualified voter being entitled to vote in any party primary. Should the LaFollette phalanx decide to given Vandenberg a lift, and there is a rumor abroad that the phalanx will, the senior senator from Michigan might show Dewey his dust. Should the New Yorker, however, draw out ahead and leave Vandenberg in the lurch, the Republican medicine makers in the Middle West will warm up to Dewey.

And if Dewey does up Vandenberg in the Nebraska primaries, which also come early, then it will be fairly plain that if Dewey is to be stopped it will take some one other than Vandenberg to do it.

NEW PRAIRIE PRODUCT

Before many more years American industry expects to be supplying the public with tires made of natural rubber treaded with artificial rubber. Such a synthetic tread need be only half as thick as the one now put on automobile tires but would have longer wearing qualities because the artificial product is more resistant to water, sun and other corrosive factors.

Why not, then, make the entire tire out of artificial rubber? Because the cost has not yet been brought down to fit the public's purse as it will be when production increases. Even then synthetic rubber will be used to supplement the natural product and expand uses without creating a major eruption in world trade.

Already the synthetic product is being used in a variety of new ways—mattresses, upholstery, shoe soles, lining for tank cars, insulation, safety glass, waterproofed fabrics, parasols, wrappings and many others.

Artificial rubber is being connected more and more closely with the petroleum industry. The principal ingredient of the newest synthetic base for rubber is obtained from crude oil. It is a coming giant in American industry. And the oil states of the Mid-continent fields have the source of supply in their control. This product once exclusively tropical may yet enrich the prairie states of this temperate zone.

SUSPICION OF ANNUAL DISEASE

A subscriber writes to ask what will chase ghosts, gnomes and so forth from a house. He says that when he gets home in the evening he finds things disturbed. His radio will stop playing and when he goes near it it will resume. At night, dogs and cats make strange sounds and there is a rapping on doors and windows. The police have tried to be helpful but are making no headway. The letter is signed "SOS."

We have known of situations like this which were traced to mice, and one that was attributed to ivy growing into the house. However, coming at this time, the symptoms suggest another condition, and before going off half-cocked we should like further particulars. Does SOS see spots before the eyes, a sense of heaviness after, during and before meals? Is his eye dull? Does he lack interest in things and people around him? Does he feel that he would like to get up and go away, if he had the energy to move? Is he troubled by vacillation over simple decisions, and claustrophobia? Does he forget keys and where he was to have met the wife?

If the answer to all this is yes, we have no hesitancy in saying the condition in debate is spring fever. The crisis of the disease commonly comes in April, but it is not too soon now to experience the early manifestations. These are caused by photographs of hulking athletes throwing baseballs around in pleasing surroundings under a Florida sun.

LIFE'S ETERNAL TRIUMPH

Many years have elapsed since England, undertaking to follow the lead of a League of Nations Committee, passed a law fixing Easter as the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April, conditioned upon international acceptance of that date.

The objectives of this measure were less religious than commercial, and since the Christian festival is strongly rooted in deep religious feeling the world over, the English plan found little support. Hence Easter continues to be a movable feast with a possible variance of thirty-five days in the date of its observance.

It happens that this year, Easter being still established as the first Sunday after the full moon following the vernal equinox, the date is at the early end of the possible range, which extends from March 22 to April 25. Commercially this may have its drawbacks, the weather being unpropitious for the comfortable display of spring finery. Religiously it is immaterial.

Rebirth is in full swing. Nature is quick. Winter's grip of death has been loosened, and everywhere there are reminders of the eternal force of life. Early or late, the festival takes place in an appropriate symbolic natural setting, full of reminders of the central fact of Christian belief, the persistence of its Vital Force throughout the ages.

It may be inconsistent to celebrate the anniversary of history's most important event on a variable date, but that is of much less consequence than the fact that the world observes it after the lapse of more than nineteen centuries with reverence and rejoicing.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

COACHING CHILD IN ECONOMY

THE AVERAGE child, rich or poor, has not had good training in habits of economy. He is appallingly wasteful.

In many states there are free school textbooks. In nearly every public school some materials are supplied free to children, particularly in the kindergarten grades. Drawing paper, colored paper for construction, crayons, paints and other materials which are used are given to the children and paid for with public taxes. For this contribution by the public we parents are grateful.

But all the while something has occurred which, when we discern it fully, is not very reassuring. Reasonable economy in the use of free materials has not been widely emphasized in school training. When things come to the child so easily and readily, he lacks the urge to be careful with them.

Challenge To Teachers

Ideal training in citizenship ought to make children even more careful in the use of public property than in the use of their own possessions. I am not aware that this ideal has been held up before teachers in training or in service. Conscientious teachers, wishing to emphasize moral guidance in the school, ought to find challenging opportunities here.

I wish teachers would frequently examine the wastebaskets of their classrooms. They would be amazed at the evidence of needless waste found there. Since most free perishable material is supplied to children in their earlier school years, the responsibity for the teacher in the kindergarten and primary grades is great. Careful use of such materials involves the teaching of neatness, a trait in which all of us wish to have our children trained. Let us therefore beg the teacher to place more emphasis on such matters in the schoolroom, not merely to keep our taxes down but also for the moral character of our children.

Habits Acquired Early

But long before our children go to school they have acquired certain attitudes and habits toward materials given them for play. Give the child a clean sheet of paper to draw or scribble on. He may employe only one side of it, make a few marks in the middle of it, crumbple it and throw it on the floor among his toys, begging for another sheet, and so on until he tires of this activity. He needs our guidance in the proper use of paper.

How the child will handle public library books and free school books will depend on how he had been trained in the very early years to treat a book. When he goes to school, whether the books are free or not, cover them with thick paper; rather, show him how to do so himself. The home and school working together can do a great deal to teach economy and, in doing so, to build good qaualities of character in children.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. A child, four years old, scribbles in books and on the walls.

A. Help him associate crayon or pencil only with paper to write on and never leave him along with crayons or pencil until he has learned their proper use. Don't have a trial or punish him after you find marks in a book or on the wall you suppose he has made. It's too late then. Anyway, why tempt him to lie?

Q. The first time I spanked my baby he seemed terribly hurt and I know I was. I immediately carressed him and he soon was happy. Now he always expects the same treatment after punishment.

A. You did what most parents are tempted to do, but you did wrong. You inflicteed pain on the baby and then showed him you were sorry that you did. The only reason you could have for giving him pain was to make what he must not do so painful that it will not be repeated. You wanted him to have pain. You deliberately gave it to him with a definite purpose. But when you immediately cuddled him, you gave him pleasure right after the pain. How was he to get the right connection? How was the punishment to do him any good? Besides, the confusion caused the little tyke to connect the pain with you rather than with the forbidden act.

THE NEW DALAI LAMA

Ling Ehr, boy just six years old,
Sits upon a throne of gold,
By coincidence of birth,
Buddha's regent on the earth;
Dalai Lama, king of kings!
Owner of all living things!
By Tibetans all adored,
Spiritual and temporal lord!
Six years old, with freedom done
Ere his life was scarce begun!

Ling Ehr, child of circumstance,
Chosen by the merest chance
And to serve some deep intent
Of his ancient government,
Comes to all this pomp and pride,
Being born as Dalai died,
Reckoned, stated as a fact,
Death and birth—the time exact!
Youngster of a peasant line
Thus exalted as divine.

Little ruler, six years old,
Now must do as he is told;
Now must sit upon a throne;
Have no playmates of his own.
Wise and cunning men and sly
Now to bend his will will try.
All they'll ever teach or show
Is what they will let him know.
Strange the life and very sad
For a little peasant lad!

HINTS AND DINTS

It might be a good thing for the birds who don't like this country to go back to the country they got run out of.

Not long ago we were sitting in a big hotel lobby when the girl who done the paging called out "Mr. Crook, Mr. Crook, wanted on the telephone." About half the guys quivered and looked in the direction of the phone booth. No. Mr. Crook appeared.

EASY ENOUGH

"Why did you leave your last place?" asked the boss.

"I didn't leave it. It left me."

"Rather strange, I should say."

"Not at all. I worked in an ammunition factory."

In Miami, Florida, recently 54,920 automobiles passed a certain point on a street, in twelve hours. And most of them evidently did not know where they were going.

We were just wondering what we would do with a cow bird if some one were to give us one for a pet.

We have noticed that when ashes are put on streets when they are slippery, the automobiles raise a terrible dust after the streets dry up. Always sumpin'.

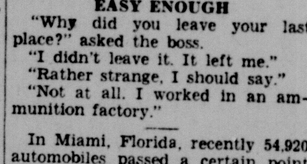
NOT THAT KIND

"Griggs and his wife are not getting along very smoothly, I hear," said Brown to Smith.

"No," replied Smith, "and you can't wonder at it. He married a girl that looked like a magazine cover, and then expected her to work like a cookbook."

Of course there is a regular date for the starting of spring and it is March 20. In many years, however, it don't mean a thing.

Authorities investigating the case are mystified, as the murdered girl had no enemies. If not, she must have had a pretty lousy friend or two.



Great infielders are born, but you can train junior's eye and hand by letting him retrieve the toast as it pops out.

Measles killed more American soldiers during the last world war than poison gas. The casuality list shows that 2,370 men died from measles and only 1,399 were killed by gas. Other interesting statistics show that 318 service men were murdered; 965 committed suicide and 727 were drowned. The Navy's casualities during the last world war were 77 officers and 794 men from all causes. Only 30 officers and 326 men were killed in action. A total of 42,188,810 men were mobilized by the allies and the Central Powers had 22,850,000 men under arms for a grand total of 65,038,810. Of this number 8,538,315 were killed in action; 21,210,452 were wounded; 7,750,919 were taken prisoner. Almost unbelievable is the fact that Russia had more actual casualties than Germany. Russia had 1,700,000 men killed in action against 1,773,700 for Germany and had more taken prisoner and injured than Germany and Turkey combined. Italy had more men under arms, in the world war, than the United States. Japan, with 800,000 soldiers lost only 300 on the field of action and only 3 taken prisoner.

There are two kinds of people who should not be allowed to use a telephone to annoy people. One is a nut and the other is a drunk.

People who went south for the winter sure did find it.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

Girls wishing to impress men favorably make a serious mistake whenever they confide even their slightest ills or ailments. Nothing detracts from a girl's sex appeal like a suggestion that she may be delicate or even temporarily ailing. The clinging vine type of woman may appeal to the protective instinct in men by confiding their other troubles, but deep down in the nature of every potential husband is the urge for vitality in his mate. The sweet young things of the Victorian age flopped and fainted in the arms of their husbands, but the latter usually found antidotes in sub rosa sweeties. The modern girl who is wise watches her blood count and blood pressure and partakes of enough vitamins, oxygen and exercise to be, always a vital playmate for her husband.

Readers' Questions Answered

Dear Miss Markel: What is the correct procedure for "cutting in" at dances? It is not done where I came from.—Soph.

Answer: Provided that you have been introduced to a girl, you may, while she is dancing, step up and lay your hand upon her partner's (but not upon her) shoulder asking "May I cut in?" Her partner, if courteous, thereupon will surrender her to you, saying, "Thank you" to her and you should say "Thank you" to him.

This custom—not sanctioned in all communities—is usually the result of a "stag line" formed near the main entrance by young men attending the dance without partners. They wait to cut in on the girls who estimate their popularity by the number of cut-ins they receive. This custom is usually confined to those of collegiate age.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader enclosing self-addressed three-cent stamped envelope.

A brand new home it is,
To fill with all our likes:
A room of frilly things for you,
For mine, old smelly pipes.

Another room for wet, cold nights
All warm with firelight glow,
A morris chair in which I doze,
Or watch you rock and sew.

One more room for woman's wiles,
For cooking apple pies and
Cakes and things I like so well
That money never buys.

I thought we had quite room enough,
I'm just a simple lout—
Until you turned all red and pink
And shy as all get out.

So now we have another room
It's very small and blue
With tiny bed and high-top chair
For Junior soon is due.

REALIZING THE INSULT

Manuel, a negro with a record previously clean, was arraigned before the bucolic justice of the peace for assault and battery.

"Why did you beat that negro up, Manuel?" questioned the squire.

"He called me sumpin', jedge."

"What did he call you?"

"He called me a rhinoceros, sah, a rhinoceros!"

"A rhinoceros! When did this occur?"

"But three years ago, jedge."

"Three years ago! Then how did it happen that you waited so long to resent it, Manuel?"

"Lawd, jedge, I ain't never seen no rhinoceros till dis mawnin'."

During our absence this column was conducted by Charles Allen of the News editorial force. Some of these days he will get the opportunity of running it all the time. He always does a good job and we have a hard time getting along after he leaves it.

If dad feels too dignified to waste time on such a silly game, it means that Junior beats him.

COULDN'T AFFORD IT

A father noticed that his rather obstreperous young son had the quality of thriftiness, and resolved to appeal to it.

"Sonny," said he, "I'm going to give you a nickel every day you're a good boy, on condition that every day you are naughty you are to give me a nickel. Is it a go?"

"I'd like to do it, dad," answered the kid. "But I can't afford it. I've only got $1.26 in my bank."

Seeing Gone With The Wind isn't like reading the book. When people say they have seen the movie, they mean all of it.

Roos velt divorces and such have spoiled a good alibi. Dad can no longer blame his wild younguns for his failure.

What's What At A Glance

Mussolini Is Placed On Spot
No Sympathy Over Coal Crisis
Troubles Are Brought On Self

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Official Washington doesn't wish to see European conditions get any worse or more complicated. Therefore, it regrets the situation in which Italy finds itself. At the same time, precious little sympathy is felt for Il Duce Mussolini. Perhaps Benito is a trifle less disliked in this country than either Fuehrer Hitler or Comrade Stalin, on the ground that he's rather more rational than the former; not quite so much of an indiscriminate killer as the latter. Still, he's copiously disliked.

So far as Il Duce is concerned, if it weren't for its objection to any aggravation of the strain in Old World affairs, Washington would be inclined to snicker at his troubles with the British over Italian supplies of coal.

The diplomatic view in Uncle Sam's capital is that Benito's present difficulty isn't due to any especially bad management of his own; he's a victim of geography, geol-ogy and various other conditions over which he has no control.

It's obvious that Italy is in danger from Germany, to the northward and in the Balkans, if she doesn't stay friendly with the Reich. It's equally obvious that she is helpless in the Mediterranean so long as the British and French remain dominant there.

That means that Italy is completely surrounded, not necessarily by enemies, but by neighbors much more powerful than herself.

So much for geography.

Duce Prefers Reich

Benito evidently inclines to take his chances with the Germans rather than with the British and French. After all, he and Adolf are fellow dictators. Indeed, Benito says candidly that he isn't a neutral, though he's non-belligerent. He doesn't approve of Comrade Stalin, and the general impression is that he didn't approve of Adolf's approval of the latter, either. But he stood for it, rather than break with the fuehrer.

If he could afford to do so, it's diplomatically guessed that he'd take military sides with Germany against the Allies. If he did that, however, the French immediately would break into northern Italy, the Germans would break in, too, to help the Italians, the whole northern part of Benito's realm would become a battleground, and Fascist territory would be devastated, no matter how the campaign might develop.

Simultaneously, the British navy would be raking Benito's Mediterranean coast line, his own fleet probably would be smashed to smithereens, and he might lose his recently acquired North African possessions. He coudn't stand that.

Geology

Italy is quite a highly industrialized country.

Its industries need coal, though, and Italy doesn't produce a shovelful of it.

Adjoining Germany does and is glad to let the Italians have plenty of it, but not much of it can get into Italy from Germany overland, due to lack of adequate transportation facilities. Consequently coal shipments must be via the sea.

Now the British navy has shut off these shipments.

"We'll let you have OUR coal," say the British. But the Italians haven't the cash to pay for it. "We'll take pay in your agricultural products," proposes the British. Then it transpires that the British already have arranged to get all such products elsewhere. "Why not buy coal in the United States?" suggest the British. But the Italians have no money to pay US, and we don't need their farm stuff, either.

Danger of Ridicule

In short, Italy can't get coal.

Benito protested furiously to London.

London was extremely polite and diplomatic, but the British kept on confiscating German coal consigned to Italy, by the whole fleetload.

Britain finally permitted 13 Italian colliers to sail with their German coal for assurance that no Italian cargo steamers would be sent to neutral ports for German coal in the future.

And the last 200,000 tons of Germany's coal won't keep Italy's factories going for long.

Italy's only hope lies in getting German coal by overland routes henceforth.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ACTING NOT BEAUTY.

Some Movie actresses are trading mostly upon their beauty, not their ability to act and a somewhat similar criticism might be made of some of the men appearing on the Screen. The public likes to see beauty and manly grace, but it goes to the theater to see acting.

Baron Rothschild was a good friend of Jules Cambon. Cambon was a great judge of music and often proved to be of service to his friends. It so happened that one day Rothschild wrote to him from London asking if he could secure the services of a prima donna who had achieved great success on the continent, and who had been highly praised in the newspapers.

Cambon, upon interviewing her, discovered that her beauty and worldly successes far overshadowed her musical attainments. And when she announced what she wanted for the concert, Cambon smiled and said:

"But, my dear madame, Baron Rothschild only wants you to sing!"

And that is what the public pays its good money for when it goes to the theater, whether the speaking stage or the cinema.

The Great Game Of Politics

Boiling It Down

Washington, March 18.

PROBABLY the high pressure of the party propaganda machines is partly responsible, but it does seem that if we are to judge by the level upon which the pre-convention fight is now being waged, the Presidential campaign to follow easily may be one of the meanest on record.

PERHAPS after the nominations have been made the candidates will be able to inject some dignity into the contest and the loud-mouthed name callers be throttled down. But nothing that is happening now justifies that hope. On the contrary, there are indications that new depths of political slush and silliness are likely to be reached. For example, take the most recent attack of the refined Mr. Ickes upon the ambitious Mr. Dewey.

ONE has come to expect venomous indelicacy and cheap wit from Mr. Ickes, but he seems now to be losing his power of self-restraint. There is some apprehension among his friends lest before the conventions are held he, as one coarse fellow inelegantly expressed it, "may put his large, flat foot in his own open mouth." Particularly does Mr. Ickes seem to lose control when he speaks of Mr. Dewey, whose youth he appears to regard as a personal affront. Every time he gets the chance he breaks out with a new quip about Dewey and diapers or rompers or teething rings, linking mention of these articles of infant use with slightly smirking personal references calculated to remind that at the age of 68 he, himself, lately became a father.

BUT Mr. Ickes' tirades are unimportant except as they contribute to confusing real issues. Both party puclicity machines play this game with intense zeal and enthusiasm. Each is aided by its own political and journalistic allies and reflectors. Of course, few on the New Deal side are quite as absurd as Mr. Ickes, who, the other day, ghoulishly went back nearly thirty years to dig up the grave of the late Mark Hanna, with the chivalrous idea of hurting his daughter, Mrs. Albert Sims, who is supporting Mr. Dewey. But they do vociferously and regularly shout about "Joe" Pew, "Ernie" Weir, "Joe" Grundy, the du Ponts and the Liberty League.

ON the other side, the Republicans retaliate by stressing in their publicity the big money names of

Red Cross Finds Increased Need For Clothing In Devastated Finland

POLISH GROUPS ARE ALSO BUSY

Mrs. James Rhodes, chairman of production, and Mrs. Robert M. Garland, chairman of knitting, are increasing the output of the production headquarters. With Finland at peace the work of the International Red Cross is being taxed. Four hundred thousand homeless and thousands moving out of that part of Finland ceded to Russia, makes the work of the American Red Cross heavy.

With the request for warm comforts, Mrs. Rhodes is having all larger scraps used for this and backing each cover with a double bed sized single cotton blanket.

Children's clothing and infants garments are also needed. The chapter has ordered warm materials for sleeping garments, children's dresses, petticoats and bloomers, all in the making.

The second large shipment to the refugees of Poland and Finland is leaving the headquarters Monday. Included in this shipment are 65 pairs of socks, 174 shirts, 120 dresses, 10 beanies or mufflers and five sweaters.

Mrs. John Wajert, in charge of the auxiliary groups sewing at Falcon and Pulaski halls, has been busy, not only making new garments but mending used clothing which has been previously cleaned and is shipped into Poland to the Polish Red Cross for distribution.

Mrs. Wajert has had excellent cooperation from the Polish women. Mrs. W. Wolanska has made all the button holes on a number of shirts and dresses. This task is done only by the women whose work is outstanding and meets the requirements.

Assisting In Work

Assisting at Pulaski hall are the following: Mrs. M. Plonka, Mrs. M. Zembek, Mrs. Z. Kusznierz, Mrs. H. Mateja, Mrs. A. Kucharska, Mrs. A. Telesz, Mrs. M. Telesz, Mrs. J. Boczar, Mrs. M. Cwynar, Mrs. A. Cwynar, Mrs. A. Dudek, Mrs. M. Cwynar, Mrs. Bystyga, V. Kusznierz, Mrs. Z. Golonka, Mrs. A. Wieszczak, Mrs. S. Gierlach, Mrs. M. Perjsnar, Mrs. C. Cwiakala, Mrs. A. Swiera, Mrs. C. Zaremba, Mrs. G. Jenkdrysik, Miss H. Owoc, Mrs. M. Kwolek, Mrs. B. Baranska, Mrs. V. Wolanskia, Mrs. A. Witkowska, Mrs. K. Wolanina.

Assisting at the Falcon hall are the following: Mrs. A. Gierad, Mrs. J. Owoc, Mrs. M. Przybylska, Mrs. Z. Kwolek, Mrs. F. Kurdupska, Mrs. A. Kubinska, Mrs. M. Tomon, Mrs. C. Seniow, Mrs. M. Rybka, Mrs. M. Dlugokenska, Mrs. W. Nogaj, Mrs. F. Maslyk, Mrs. J. Szarek, Mrs. F. Jarosz, Mrs. H. Lesniak, Mrs. B. Lisiecka, Mrs. J. Budzowsla, Mrs. J. Kwolek, Mrs. W. Rzepka, Mrs. J. Jopek, Mrs. J. Sroczynska, Mrs. A. Boron, Mrs. A. Cwynar, Mrs. J. Magusiak, Mrs. K. Klamut, Mrs. A. Potoczna, Mrs. B. Barut, Mrs. A. Ostrowska, Mrs. A. Wacikowska, Mrs. J. Budzowska, Mrs. M. Potoczna.

Mrs. Wajert has given unselfishly of her time and has been of great assistance to the headquarter's staff.

Assisting Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Garland at the downtown headquarters are Mrs. Percy Walls, Mrs. E. F. Sowersby, Mrs. B. F. Butler, Mrs. H. W. Hauga, Mrs. Paul Butz, Mrs. Elizabeth Jevon, Mrs. Fred Sontum, Mrs. M. L. Maxwell, Mrs. Ralph Cook and Mrs. Oliver Hoover.

Mrs. J. Elder Bryan has a group of East Side women sewing under her supervision.

Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry of the Overlook Sanitorium, New Wilmington, and Miss Mary Haig, domestic science instructor at Bessemer have had materials delivered to them and groups in both places have been active.

Church groups at the First Baptist, First Methodist, Epworth Methodist, Highland U. P., Mahoning U. P., Neshannock U. P., have volunteered their services.

Mrs. Hulla Savolaine and Mrs. Ida Laurell have been the active Finnish women. Mrs. Savolaine has missed but one day since the production work started. Mrs. Laurell is using all the useless scraps for weaving rugs and has orders for many.

All the volunteers have given 75,000 hours during the past month.

The Great Game Of Politics

"Jimmie" Cromwell, "Joe" Davies and "Tony" Biddle. They reiterate the story of the Democratic campaign book racket of 1936 in which so many alarmed corporations were blackjacked into giving up money for the New Deal ticket. Nor are they silent concerning the recent unsavory transaction by which "Jimmy" Roosevelt obtained through Mr. McAdoo, the insurance business of a Government-owned shipping line, to the head of which he (McAdoo) had been named by the President.

THE effort on each side is to impress the voters with the idea that those who contribute and collect campaign funds on the other side are evil fellows, who expect to be paid in Government favors. Each alleges that in its greed to raise money the other does not hesitate to employ unworthy, unpatriotic, illegal and, possibly, criminal methods. The charges seem about equal in weight and gravity. Perhaps they are both right or perhaps they are both wrong. If one side is guilty the other is just as much so. Actually, it is a contest of propagandists. If they are equal in number and power, the whole name-calling business cancels out. If one side is superior in publicity aquipment, it makes the deeper impression.

PARTISANS get indignant about what it is alleged is being done in the opposition camp, but are unmoved by similar happenings in their own. Recent publication of the Republican and Democratic contributors shows both parties with a considerable number of gifts of large size. The Republican list appears slightly larger, but then the Republicans have no way of using Federal funds for campaign purposes. The truth is that neither side is pure in these matters of party funds; that their wrongdoing is pretty well balanced; that there is much exaggeration on the subject; that neither is nearly as wicked as the other pretends; that such charges are inseparable from practical politics; that, in any event, they are far removed from the vital issues upon which the election will swing.

IN this election it isn't important whether Joe Pew or Joe Davies has the more selfish and sinister purpose in contributing to his party's campaign fund. It isn't important whether Old Joe Grundy is a less admirable figure than young Jimmie Cromwell. It isn't important whether Mr. Ernest Weir's opposition to the New Deal makes him an enemy of organized labor, despite his long-recorded approval of the collective-bargaining principle, while the ineffable Mr. Myron Taylor, recently clasped to the Presidential bosom and rewarded with an important foreign appointment, is an angelic creature, undefiled by his United States Steel millions. It isn't important whether it is worse for Mr. Wendel Wilkie to have resisted successfully the effort of TVA to destroy his property or for Jimmie Roosevelt to feather his nest by trading on his father's public position.

THOSE are not the important things; those are incidental—all of them. The big question is whether the people under Roosevelt leadership or Roosevelt domination—because that is the Democratic choice—want to continue going in the New Deal direction; or whether, tired of the New Deal and distrustful of its leadership, they want to change the direction as well as the personnel of their Government.

SO far as the great masses of the voters are concerned, it is just as simple as that. It is a question of the feeling of the people. They are not likely to split hairs about trade treaties, agricultural panaceas, social, labor or financial policies. So far as platforms and candidatorial utterances go, there won't be much of a gap on these matters. Barring a third-term attempt or a sensational war development, the whole campaign will boil down to whether the people are fed up on the New Deal and the New Dealers, or whether they still have an appetite for more of it and of them. The name calling is just incidental. That is just the natural effort of each side to conceal its own odor by making the other seem more odoriferious.

New Easter Song By Alfred Taylor

Easter Sunday at the First U. P. church will be a gala day musically. In the morning, the junior choir, under the direction of A. Alfred Taylor, organist and choirmaster, will lead the music. They will have a singing processional, and will present a new Easter song by Mr. Taylor, "The Easter Bells Are Ringing".

In the evening, the augmented choir of the church will sing Theodore Dubois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ". Final rehearsals with the large chorus choir are in progress. Soloists for the occasion will be—Mrs. Muryl Boyd, soprano; Samuel Lewis, tenor; and Alan B. Davis, of Westminster Conservatory, baritone. A fine rendition of this great dramatic cantata is expected.

GAS SO BAD CROWDS HEART

"My bowels were so sluggish and my stomach so bad I was just miserable. Sometimes gas bloated me until it seemed to crowd my heart. I tried Adlerika. Oh, what relief. The first dose worked like magic. Adlerika removed the gas and waste matter and my stomach felt so good."—Mrs. S. A. McAmis. If gas in your stomach and bowels from constipation bloats you up until you gasp for breath, take a tablespoonful of Adlerika and notice how the stomach GAS is relieved almost at once. Adlerika often moves the bowels in less than two hours. Adlerika is BOTH carminative and cathartic, containing five carminatives to warm and soothe the stomach and expel GAS, and three cathartics to clear the bowels and relieve intestinal nerve pressure.

bbi Cecil Shenson Is Paid Tribute Sunday Afternoon At Tifereth Synagogue

JEWISH COMMUNITY ATTENDS MEMORIAL

Sunday afternoon, members of the Jewish community attended the impressive memorial services at the Tifereth Israel synagogue, paying tribute to one of their faithful leaders, who served the Jewish community for the past 32 years, the late Rabbi Cecil Shenson.

Services commenced at 3 o'clock, with Rabbi Gilbert A. Elefant, present spiritual leader of congregation Tifereth Israel, in charge.

The synagogue was filled to capacity with faithful worshippers from this city, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Ky., Lexington, Ky., Sharon, Farrell, McKeesport, Ellwood City, Slippery Rock, Grove City and other surrounding towns in this vicinity. Present on this memorable occasion were the children of the late rabbi.

Taking part in the program in addition to those who were scheduled to speak, were Rabbi S. Stahlman, of Ellwood City, and Rabbi Maurice Helsgot of Oil City.

Stassen And Martin Appear Favorites

Will Probably Be Chairmen Of Republican National Convention At Philadelphia

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, and G. O. P. House Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts, are today outstanding favorites among Republican leaders for election as temporary and permanent chairman, respectively, of their Presidential convention.

The youthful Minnesota governor appears to have the temporary chairmanship cinched. Thus far, he has no potent rival for the position, which is filled by the Republican national committee.

MOTHERS' MILK

There shouldn't be any controversy about the comparative merits of breast-feeding and bottle-feeding. Yet I am continually getting letters from women asking if babies don't do just as well when they are bottle-fed. Some of these writers, as if anticipating a "no", make a point of reminding me that the Dionne Quintuplets weren't breast fed.

I sympathize with women who find it uncomfortable and exacting to breast feed a baby. They naturally don't like to be tied down by having to be home every couple of hours to feed the baby. It is always a bar to pleasure, sometimes an interference to earning, or helping to earn, a living.

Yet long experience and observation makes it necessary for me to tell these inquirers that the breast fed baby has a far better chance for good health than has the baby raised on the bottle. This isn't just an old-fashioned notion of a country doctor. Modern science has pretty well established this as fact.

It is true, the Quintuplets weren't breast fed. If they had been, I feel quite sure that we would not have had some of the crises that threatened the life of first one and then the other in those first few, anxious months. But since we couldn't have the children breast fed, we did the next best thing—we got mothers' milk for them.

When a child is breast fed by its own mother, the food it gets is especially suited to its particular needs to a degree that it is almost impossible to equal in bottle formulae. Mother's milk changes as by magic with the baby's changing needs. When a baby is raised on the bottle, we try to meet his changing needs by changing the formula of the feeding. But the breast fed child has his needs anticipated through his mother. Thre just isn't any adequate substitute for that.

Of course, lots of bottle-fed babies get along splendidly. They are fine healthy children. But I believe they would have been even healthier and finer if they could have had the advantage of mother's milk.

However, I don't want to fill any mother with despair just because she can't breast-feed her child. For her, the story of the Quintuplets must be a good deal of comfort. If she can get a supply of mothers' milk, as we did, her worries will be largely unnecessary. Many cities today have mothers' milk depots. Recently I had the opportunity to visit Chicago's mothers' milk clinic, operated under the supervision of my good friend Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner for the city, and I found it is doing a wonderful work for babies there. I hope other cities will follow its example. Dr. Bundesen has achieved something of an ideal in the matter of child welfare. He has made the proper rearing of children the aim of the municipality rather than responsibility of the parents alone.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, March 18.—Governor James is expected to attempt to restrict the forthcoming special session of the legislature, which probably will be called for May, to a one-week session, if possible. That is the minimum time necessary to permit the legislators to transfer money for relief purposes from special state funds. Republican leaders in the General Assembly are doubtful, however, of whether the special session can be restricted to such a short period. The Republicans, however, have the votes with which to force adjournment at the end of a week in the event they can complete their work in that time.

Governor James' opposition to the imposition of a state income tax bodes ill for chances of its passing at the next regular session. The governor has already stated he does not intend to include in his special session call the subject of taxes. Considerable sentiment for a flat income tax exists nevertheless among Pennsylvania legislators and the 1941 session is expected to see a vigorous fight waged for enactment of some such measure. An unsuccessful attempt was made in the 1939 session by Rep. Herbert G. Gates, Armstrong Republican, backed by some 40 house supporters, to obtain enactment of a two per cent income tax with a $1,200 exemption for home expenses.

Although Governor James has refused to announce formally that he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination—he says he is not but that "no man could refuse such a high honor"—His name will be presented before the G. O. P. national convention when it meets at Philadelphia on June 24. It is expected that George Wharton Pepper, former U. S. senator from Philadelphia and an orator of note, will present James' name to the convention as Pennsylvania's "favorite son" candidate. After that James' candidacy is in the lap of the gods—and the politicians.

Opinion in Pittsburgh, from which 1940's three Democratic candidates for United States senator appears to be that the candidacy of William N. McNair, former Pittsburgh mayor, will harm the candidacy of Walter A. Jones more than that of Senator Joseph F. Guffey, who is seeking re-election. McNair says he will not attack either of his opponents in his campaign, Guffey because "he is an old friend of mine" and Jones because "he's a fraternity brother."

In the office of the prothonotary and clerk of courts, Paul W. Davis has filed an appeal from a summary conviction by Justice of the Peace W. J. Eakin of Scott township.

It is averred that Davis was arrested by Officer J. M. Young on February 15, 1940, for an alleged illegal parking on February 5 on the Harlansburg road.

Davis claims that the incident occurred at 6:30 in the morning, that the road was slippery and that he had parked but about two minutes to permit Joseph Reynolds to get into his car. A truck came up in back and collided with the car.

Before Judge Thomas W. Dickey Saturday morning officers of the Albino Roumanian club appeared asking for an amendment to the charter once granted by the Lawrence county court which would permit social or honorary members. They petitioned to put their charter into conformity with the regulations of the State Liquor Control Board, their present charter prohibiting social members.

It is probable the Paper Mill project will again be under way about March 20, county commissioners stated Saturday. About 35 or 40 men will be given employment finishing the work started over a year ago.

The channel has been straightened, a stone wall erected and the property adjoining the Neshannock creek near the Paper Mill made safe from overflows.

County Controller Frank W. Hill has compiled the accounts of the probation officer, J. M. Dunlap for February. TO THE MAN WHO NEEDS A $100 LOAN

HOW YOU CAN BORROW $100 IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $6.97 A MONTH

No endorsers or guarantors needed—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Prompt, friendly service.

You can get cash at Household Finance simply and promptly, if you can repay your loan in monthly installments. You may repay in very small installments if you prefer. Or you may make larger payments in order to pay up sooner. From the table below you choose the payment schedule which best fits your own needs and your own income.

Pick your own payment schedule

Suppose you need $100 and can conveniently repay $9.75 a month. The table below shows that your installments will repay a $100 loan from Household Finance in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months will also repay a $100 loan.

WE GUARANTEE the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay, when payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay your loan ahead of time since you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. Payments are calculated at Household's rate of 2½% per month on the first $100 of balances, and 2% per month on balances above $100, which is less than the maximum prescribed by the Small Loan Law.

B. E. Henderson PRESIDENT

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the loan table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment you can conveniently make out of your regular monthly income.

Sooner you repay your loan the less it costs

Note, in the last column of the table, that you may make very small payments if you prefer. See also that the sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Four installments of $26.58 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost in this case is only $6.32. (All payments shown in the table include the charges. You pay nothing more.)

One rate to everyone

Household has only one price—the same rate to all, whether new customers or former borrowers.

What you do to borrow

All you do to get a Household Finance loan is acquaint us with your needs. We require no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. (Loans are made on furniture, car or note.) No questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives, neither do you have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan promptly, privately and without embarrassment.

Study the loan and payment table. See how you can repay the loan you need with a small part of your pay check. Then phone or visit us today. You will be under no obligation.

Democrats Prepare To Hand Out Census Plums In State

Enumerators To Be Given Jobs

About 11,000 To Get Short Time Employment On Census Taking Tasks

ENUMERATORS WILL GET BRIEF TRAINING

By EVERETT GERRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, March 18.—The Democratic party in Pennsylvania was prepared today to distribute thousands of political plums made possible by the 1940 census.

Recruiting of the 11,000 enumerators who will visit every home in the state soon to ask questions on income and other personal matters was done through the various county committees.

Applicants found acceptable to county chairmen will be notified by the census supervisor in their home district, probably within a few days, to report for a week's training before starting work April 2.

The privilege of naming the directors of the six area offices in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Altoona, Erie and Harrisburg was given U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffey, it was learned.

Mobilizing Proceeds

Mobilizing of the census takers proceeded without apparent concern for the plan which Senator Charles W. Tobey, New Hampshire Republican, was considering to delay the decennial census six months from the April 2 date. Tobey has asserted he is not going to answer census questions on income, home mortgages and marital status.

Appointments to supervisory and administrative posts were made on the recommendation of Democratic congressmen while enumerators' jobs were distributed in counties on the approval of local political leaders.

A spokesman denied that the Democratic state committee played an active role in parcelling out jobs, explaining that that task was left to the county organizations.

Republican congressmen were denied the privilege of sponsoring appointees, it was claimed in responsible G. O. P. quarters.

Democratic leaders in many communities forwarded lists of census applicants to their county chairmen for approval as soon as the supervisors were appointed. In a number of instances, it was said, form letters were sent to leaders urging them to recommend Democrats for the jobs.

Because 1940 is the all-important election year, it was understood the tens of thousands of applications were thoroughly scrutinized. All of the applicants were required to take an examination.

Albert Gastrock, director for the Harrisburg census district, disclosed that the enumerators will get preliminary training. The census must be completed within two weeks in the city, he said, and in one month in the rural districts.

TREE RING FORMATIONS

The concentric rings on a tree trunk owe their existance to certain structura differences between the wood formed in the spring and in late summer.

PIONEER SPIRIT MARCHING ON IN NEW CASTLE

Several days ago under the Pioneer banner there was published a few of the diversified industries of New Castle and Lawrence County. Today another group has been selected to show further diversification. All of them are modern pioneers in their line and all of them have a share in the industrial life of New Castle and Lawrence County.

In the world of steel fabricating there are few plants in the country that have a better reputation and few that go back so far in the record of continuous operation as the Fleming Structural Steel Company. Old timers here can remember James and Robert Fleming who started the plant almost half a century ago. For some years it has been operated by Louis Kohn. The plant fabricates steel of any size and kind and does it well.

On Cascade Street is the Castle Foundry, operated by George Stone. The plant manufactures gray iron and semi-steel castings which are shipped to points in western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

There are few people of whatever age in the city or county who can remember when there was no Lawrence Bottling and Manufacturing Company. The mayor of New Castle, Hon. Charles B. Mayne is the president of the company and before him his father operated the plant.

Carbonated beverages of all kinds are manufactured by the company and recently substantial new building was added to the properties of the company. Since the plant was first started enough beverages have been turned out by the Lawrence to float the Queen Elizabeth for a long ways.

Companion in a way to the bottling business is the Lawrence Ice and Storage Company producing ice and distilled water. The late H. A. Rugh started the business and it is operated now by Welty O. Rugh his son. The president of the company is Dr. John B. Foster.

Getting away from soft drinks and ice we come to the National Pants Company on the Butler Road. Over three quarters of a million pairs of pants are manufactured in a year's time and into those pants go 900,000 square yards of cloth. The National Pants has made thousands of pairs of pants for the Federal government for use by boys in the CCC. Its market is national. J. Albert of Washington, D. C., is the president, and the plant manager is A. Cohen.

The Interstate Creamery Company, organized in 1924, now has a market for its products that extends over Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland. Milk and cream and by-products of them are shipped daily.

Nearly twenty years ago Harry W. Lockley conceived the idea that a machine company which would turn out industrial machines, and be equipped to machine castings and he organized the company and each year has seen it growing in size and importance. Today it is equipped to handle jobs of almost any kind in its own field.

Harry Lockley was right. There was a need for such a company but up to 1921 no one had done much about it. He pioneered the way and has a successful business as the result.

Local Industry Presents Brighter Picture In '39

The best indicator of general business conditions in any community or section is obviously the total number of persons gainfully employed and the second best in the total number employed and the total of wages paid in manufacturing or industry, which is the term most generally used.

Unfortunately, the Greater New Castle Association reported today, the only complete record of those gainfully employed is that contained in the United States census reports taken only every 10 years which is of little or no value in determining conditions during the period between censuses.

The census bureau however, takes the census of manufacturing every two years which is decidedly helpful, but as the figures for each census are not available until many months after the end of the period covered, it is not possible to have a complete picture that at any time is up to date.

In Pennsylvania, the department of internal affairs compiles satistics each year showing indutsrial employment, wages paid, etc., but these figures are not available until approximately one year after the period covered by the report.

Helps Point Trends

However, over a period of years these records are helpful in determining trends although there is always an uncovered period at the end during which substantial short time changes in trends could have taken place that in no way would be indicated by the latest available records.

In the tables that follow it will be noted that U. S. census figures are in each case smaller than those of the state, which is explained in part by the fact that the term industry embraces more lines of business in the state records than it does in the report of the bureau of census.

Both tables shown indicate, as has been the case in the other indicators herewith submitted, that the general trend in New Castle from 1929 through 1937 has closely paralleled that of the country as a whole and that losses from the closing of the United States steel mill and the tin mill have been absorbed by other industries. The close down in 1931 is clearly reflected in the state figures for 1932 and the one in 1937 is reflected in the figures for 1938.

GNCA Makes Study

The Greater New Castle Association has made a careful check for 1939 and while its figures are in part estimated, particularly as to the smaller industries they are complete enough to give a reasonably accurate picture of conditions thru that year, it is stated.

The starting again of the Shenango tin mill in October 1939, and its employment of three months of approximately 3,100 workmen, a larger number than ever before, after it had operated on a very small hourly schedule per week for a long time, followed by a three months period previous to October 1, during which it was practically closed and then closed almost entirely again on January 1, 1940, with no official employment figures that will be available for many months, presents a situation that requires some study before a picture of conditions that may prevail during 1940 can be forecast with any reasonable accuracy.

At the start it should be emphasized that the number of employees shown in both tables is the average number employed in each of the several years covered and not the figures for peak periods or at the close of calendar years.

The studies that have been made indicated that during 1939, the total number employed by all industries in New Castle, excluding the tin mill was greater by several hundred than had ever been employed before at one time by these industries, and that in the last three months period, during which the tin mill employed more than ever before the total number of individuals employed by all industries located within the corporate limits of New Castle, including those located in the area immediately surrounding, was higher than ever before in the history of the city.

It should always be recognized in considering industrial employment in New Castle that New Castle residents, to the number of approximately 800 at the close of 1939, were employed under the classification used by the state by industdies located near to, but outside the corporate boundaries of the city and that a considerable number, possibly 300, are employed in industrial plants more distant from the city.

If some inconsistencies seem to appear in the following tabulations it should be remembered that they cover a period during a portion of which various "spread the work" plans for overcoming complete unemployment on the part of large numbers were put into operation for varying lengths of time by many employers.

Pre-Easter Services Are Now In Progress

Reading Evangelist Is Preaching Nightly At Cavalry Gospel Tabernacle

REV. ELMER PIPER

Three largely attended services marked the opening of the second and final week of the Pre-Easter services at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, on the East Side.

Many out of town friends were present at the evening service. The guest speaker for this week's series of services, Rev. Elmer Piper of Reading, Pa., gave three forceful and inspiring messages at the regular preaching services. Mr. Piper, an evangelist and Bible teacher of ability, will be heard nightly at 7:30 this week and in three services on Easter Sunday. Mr. Piper has announced a special series of sermons on the Mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven, based on the thirteenth chapter of Matthew's Gospel.

Christian Science Lecture Is Given

St. Louis Woman Is Heard On Sunday Afternoon At The Penn Theatre

At the Penn theatre, North Mercer street on Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist, a lecture on Christian Science was given by Mrs. Elizabeth McArthur Thomson, C. S. B. of St. Louis, Mo.

She spoke on "Christian Science: How it Meets the Human Need" and said in part:

Centuries ago, a sweet singer of Israel poured forth in glorious tone a message or hymn of praise to God, foretelling His unfailing goodness, protection and love. Credited to David, this wonderful song, since called the twenty-third Psalm, stirs the hearts and thought of all Christians, for they see in it the grace of a God at once tender and most kind. Hear the impelling words of the song's immortal promise: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." Could message be more comforting, more vitally encouraging and helpful?

Do we heed the singer's message, let it bring us hope and cheer? Can't we see, as did the Psalmist, what it means to trust the good? God, your heavenly Father, loves you. He it is who cares for you.

Long after David, there appeared a woman whose search for Truth brought her finally to the conclusion of the Psalmist and our Master, and she, too, saw God as He really is. This woman, Mary Baker Eddy, in desperate need, after many years of experimental research in almost every method of healing, turned to the Holy Scriptures to discover, in the teachings of Christ Jesus, the true meaning of the Old and New Testament writings, the inspiring prophecies of the Bible.

The Bible and Prophecy

The prophecy of a people who would be free, foretold in Scripture and repeated in the writings of Mrs. Eddy, points directly to the enduring nature of all that is good, and the eventual disappearance of what is not—the beliefs of sin, disease, and death. With the coming of good in thought, purpose and plan, the bad or erroneous must of necessity go. To know the truth about anything involves the giving up of the lie. And to know the truth about everything—the absolute fact concerning God, man and the universe—must demand a recognition of one God and Father, one healing Christ, or Comforter, one real man whose substance must be wholly good.

Christian Science illuminates the Scriptural writings, perfectly interpreting Truth for all. Its textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", written by Mrs. Eddy unlocks the many mansions of our heavenly Father.

Living is Loving and Giving

God's thoughts about His children feed them with unfailing food. Substance to Him must be Spirit, Mind, or true thinking, with never a sense of lack, frustration or defeat.

Christian Scientists are taught never to forget their calling. They realize that to them has come a definite responsibility to keep alive, through right thinking and pure living, the religion of Christ Jesus with its practical evidence of one Mind and one good. Now is the time, here is the place, forever is its promise in the words of Mrs. Eddy (Science and Health, p. 345): "When the omnipotence of God is preached and His absoluteness is set forth, Christian sermons will heal the sick."

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." Go to your Shepherd, divine Mind and Love. Let the message of Truth, as revealed in Christian Science, be your guide and protection in all that you do.

John McCormick Gets Life Term

Cleveland Jury Returns First Degree Verdict With Mercy Recommended

CLEVELAND, O., March 18.—A jury that had been out for 20 hours returned a verdict Saturday night of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy in the hold-up-slaying case against John L. McCormick, 21-year-old Pitt student. He was immediately sentenced to life imprisonment, in Ohio State penitentiary.

McCormick killed Theodore Nichols, a Western Union company guard during a holdup last January 8. The jury of nine women and three men rejected the defense plea that McCormick was not guilty by reason of insanity.

Death Not Considered

At no time during the deliberations did the jury consider the electric chair for the young man. The first ballot taken on mercy resulted in a unanimous vote for life imprisonment.

The Pittsburgh parents of the convicted youth were in the courtroom to hear the verdict. Mrs. McCormick was near collapse, after the verdict was read.

I. O. O. F. Roll Call Is Most Successful

Rebekah Lodge Joins In Annual Celebration On Saturday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—A most enjoyable and successful event of Saturday evening was the annual roll call held by members of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah Lodges at the Scheweiger hall, in Sixth street.

The affair was attended by 175 members and guests of the two lodges and began with the presentation of a fine floor show directed by Miss Billie Glenn, of New Castle.

The I. O. O. F. roll call followed after which Mrs. Victor Koach entertained with a number of humorous readings. After the Rebekah call, an impressive silent tribute took place in memory of Ray Kline and Howard Hazen, who entered the long silence during the past year.

Under the direction of Mrs. Ora Travis, the Rebekah degree team presented an intricate drill during which Mrs. William Slade sang a lovely solo, "Rock Of Ages."

Rev. William Vaughn, pastor of the Edenburg Christian church, was the guest speaker and he gave an inspiring talk on the subject, "Service For Others."

As the concluding feature, committees from the two lodges served a most delicious repast.

Providence Class Selects Officers

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—Sixteen members of the Young People's class of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickey were graciously entertained for the March meeting on Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William Fleeson, of the New Brighton road.

Mrs. Lawrence Zeigler conducted the devotional period and during the meeting, the following officers were elected: President, Clarence Safreed; vice president, Lester Hazen; secretary, Mrs. Thelma Hazen; assistant, Mrs. Doris Hazen; treasurer, Mrs. William Fleeson; assistant, Mrs. Keith Hazen; birthday secretary, Mrs. Keith Hazen; teacher, Lawrence Zeigler; and assistant, Mrs. Clarence Safreed.

At an appropriate hour, the group partook of a tempting lunch, after which they departed to meet again on Saturday, April 20, at the church for a tureen dinner with arrangements to be in charge of Mrs. Virginia Keul, Mrs. Rebecca Zeigler and Lester Hazen.

Randolph Post Marks Birthday

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—The American Legion, J. Wilbur Randolph Post, locally celebrated the 21st anniversary of the organization of the group on Saturday evening when an enjoyable party at the Sixth street club rooms.

Eighty members of the unit attended and enjoyed a tempting supper arranged by Charles Ross, Walter Simpson and Elmer Greenham. The evening was spent socially recalling early days of the organization after which the entire group was re-obligated.

Tonight the regular meeting will be held jointly with the Sons of Legion at 7 o'clock with Navy pictures to be shown.

Open Road Class Enjoys Fish Fry

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—The North Sewickley Presbyterian church was the scene of a pleasant gathering on Saturday evening when members of the Open Road class assembled for the monthly meeting.

The affair began with the serving of a delectable fish supper by a committee, Mrs. Stephen Keul, Mrs. Harry Holfelder, Mrs. Lloyd Allen and Mrs. Russell Aiken.

During the meeting an election of officers was held and resulted: Presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen; vice presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Keul; secretaries, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Smith; treasurer, Mrs. William Hinkle; teacher, Joe Clark; and assistant, Mrs. Stephen Keul.

The hours were spent in an enjoyable manner with plans being made to meet again at the church on Saturday, April 20.

Lilyville Church Series Of Sermons

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—A historical and spiritual series of sermons on the last days of Christ will be given by Rev. L. A. Lightfritz, pastor, at the Lilyville Church of God this week.

Tonight his subject will be "The New Order"; Tuesday, "Christ's Authority"; Wednesday, "Tribute Money"; and Thursday, "The Sacrament of Communion". Services will begin at 8 o'clock.

An Easter program will be presented by the children's department at the church on Sunday.

FIREMEN CALLED

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—Local firemen were called to the Mervis Furniture store, Lawrence avenue on Sunday afternoon by a smoke alarm.

Morris L. Caplan Claimed By Death

Funeral Services Held This Afternoon For Prominent Retired Merchant

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—Morris L. Caplan, aged 62 years, died last evening at his home, 813 Crescent avenue, at 8 o'clock after an illness of several months.

A retired merchant, Mr. Caplan had resided in this city for a long period of years. He conducted a store for many years and was one of the town's most prominent Jewish residents.

He is survived by his wife, Rose; two sons, Harold, of this city; and Pierson, of Beaver Falls; one daughter, Bessella, at home; a granddaughter, Lynne; five brothers, J. L. and Harry Caplan, this city; A. N., and Phillip, of Rochester; and Max, of Wheeling; and two sisters, Mrs. Alex Oswald, this city; and Florence, of Philadelphia.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in the Tifereth Israel cemetery, Wilmington road.

Family Gathering Marks Anniversary

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—The memorable occasion of the 49th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Logan French of Pleasant Hill was celebrated in a festive manner on Sunday with a family dinner at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, of Park avenue.

Some 50 members of the family participated in the happy event, with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Flack and daughter, Loretta, of Struthers, O.; Paul Reinerth of Youngstown, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Helper of Beaver Falls, being out-of-town participants.

The afternoon hours were spent in a pleasant, informal manner, with the honor guests being presented with an array of most attractive gifts.

A delectable dinner was served at five o'clock, with the couple's eight children being seated with them at a beautifully decorated table, decorated with low bowls of red roses.

Mrs. Sam Berardi Tendered Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY March 18—Mrs. Sam Berardi, venerable of the Corona D' Italia Lodge was highly honored last evening when one hundred members and friends of the Lodge gathered for an enjoyable birthday party at the Sons of Italy hall.

A special guest was Mrs. Mary Conti, grand deputy, of New Castle.

Dancing, singing and games were enjoyed for a period amidst the pretty St. Patrick's and Easter appointments of the hall.

At a seasonable hour, a tempting lunch was served by the following committee: Mrs. Josephine Canavina, Mrs. Mary Verdecchici; Mrs. A. Ferrante, Mrs. A. Pellicione and Mrs. A. Master.

Mrs. Berardi was the recipient of an array of most attractive gifts.

Mrs. Leroy Lintz Is Given Surprise

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—Mrs. LeRoy Lintz was agreeably surprised on Saturday evening when a group of friends gathered at her home in Middle Lancaster for a social evening.

The hours were spent informally with games and music after which a delicious oyster supper was enjoyed.

Attending from this city were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown and sons Clair and Ralph, Alberta Goehring, Mrs. John Gabler and daughter Betty Lou and Crawford McElwain.

HOSPITAL NOTES

ELLWOOD CITY, MARCH 18.—Admitted: Mrs. George Markus, Fountain avenue; Elmer Harper, route two, New Galilee.

Quarterly Meeting Of Baptist Classes

ELLWOOD CITY, March 18.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Newell of Wiley Hill was the scene of a completely enjoyable gathering on Saturday evening when the quarterly meeting of the Adult Bible classes of the Providence Baptist church took place.

Thirty-six members attended, with the opening devotions being conducted by Ralph Steffler, Merle Stewart and Rev. J. R. Routledge.

Separate business meetings were held, with the Men's class naming the following officers: President, Ralph Steffler, and secretary-treasurer, Ralph Householder.

New leaders named by the women's class were: President, Mrs. G. N. Hazen; vice president, Mrs. Fay Main; secretary, Mrs. Ralph Steffler, and treasurer, Mrs. Edward Brelloch.

Entertainment was directed by Mrs. Fay Main, after which a delicious lunch was served by a committee of three, Mrs. Frank Main, Mrs. Fred Householder and Mrs. Elwin Hazen.

Another meeting will be held in June, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Householder of the Ellwood-Beaver Falls road.

Two Anniversaries Honored By Dinner

ELLWOOD CITY, March 12.—Honoring the wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Graham, and the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graham of Wurtemburg, the former couple pleasantly entertained at a family dinner on Sunday at their home, near Portersville.

The table was prettily decorated with an anniversary cake and a centerpiece of red roses. The afternoon hours were spent in an informal manner.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Charles Bowers is seriously ill at his home, on the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bash, of Butler, visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graham, of Wurtemburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vogt and family, of Chicago, Ill., are visiting with relatives in this city, where they formerly resided.

Mrs. Edward McKenna, of the Zelienople road, underwent an operation this morning at the Beaver Valley General hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, Mrs. R. W. Humphrey and son Jodie Bill, Mrs. W. J. Sewall and Mrs. Robert Balderson, of this city, have left on a motor trip to Florida.

Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Graham, of near Portersville, was painfully injured on Sunday when he fell off a pony at his home. His foot became tangled in the reins and he was dragged for a distance. He has been removed to the local hospital to determine the extent of his injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDanel and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Syphrit and family, of the Zelienople road, motored to Parkers Landing Sunday to view the ice gorge.

Mr. and Mrs. William Travis and son, Billy, of Bridge street, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Travis' sister, Mrs. George Waller, Highland Heights, New Castle.

The many friends of John Bates, Jr., of Bridge street extension, who was seriously injured sometime ago in an accident at the local tube company, will be glad to know that his condition is much improved. He will be able to go home for Easter but will have to return to the hospital for further treatment.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Lenten Services Continue Tonight

Services Each Night This Week At Mahoning Methodist Church

Lenten services at the Mahoning Methodist church will be continued tonight at 7:45 o'clock and will be held each night this week except Saturday.

Services of this type were held last week in the church and were all quite well attended.

Rev. D. J. Blasdell, pastor of the church, has prepared a series of special sermons for the occasion.

Civic Club Plans Meeting Wednesday

Members of the Seventh Ward Civic club plan to hold a meeting at the Mahoning Methodist church Wednesday. The session will be at noon, with a luncheon featuring.

Discussion will be heard at this time regarding the proposed change from street cars to buses in this district.

CARL OLSON HAS FRACTURED LEG

Carl Olson, aged 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Olson, of 309 North Lafayette street, is reported to be getting along nicely in the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he is recovering from a broken leg.

The Olson boy fractured his leg on Friday night, while sled riding in the Seventh Ward.

NO REPORT GIVEN

Report of the nominating committee of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church Sunday school that was scheduled for Sunday was postponed. Vote on the new Sunday school officers will be made at a service after Easter.

Rev. Henderson To Preach Easter Service In Ward

Rev. T. C. Henderson, retired Presbyterian minister, and former pastor of the Moravia Presbyterian church, has been secured to deliver the Easter Sunday service at the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, it was learned today.

Definite word is expected this week from Rev J. E. Myers, Jr., as to whether or not he will accept the call offered him to fill the vacancy at this church. Rev. Myers will graduate from Princeton Seminary in June.

PARTY SATURDAY AT T. EARLS RESIDENCE

An enjoyable surprise party was given Saturday evening by Mrs. Tip Earls of North Cedar street, when she received a group of guests to honor her husband, the occasion marking his birthday anniversary.

The event took place in their home, and was in the form of a card party, three tables of players competing for honors. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wade, at the close. Out of town guests sharing, were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sheedy of Buffalo, N. Y. and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Murphy of Wheatland, Pa.

An appetizing birthday lunch, with appointments being in keeping with the occasion, was served as the concluding feature, by Mrs. Earls.

Many handsome gifts were received by the guest of honor.

NEWS BRIEFS IN WARD DISTRICT

There is the swish of a paint brush in more than one home in the district these days, as the residents go about their annual work of spring housecleaning.

Three automobiles parked along Liberty street Saturday carried license plates from Texas, Louisiana and Mexico.

Residents should take a bit of pride in their city and try to keep the streets clean. Waste paper should be thrown in containers rather than on the street. Many out-of-town people pass through the ward each day.

Patrols of Boy Scout troop 4 are holding their weekly meetings as usual, despite the discontinuance of regular troop meetings.

It is believed that at last a meeting place that is large enough for the 45 boys in troop 4 has been found, the Lawrence county office reported today.

Practice sessions for those taking part in the cantata to be given at the Madison Avenue Christian church are scheduled for several nights during this coming week.

Chain letters are again making their appearance despite the postal rules and regulations against such items.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. C. L. Lutton, Lafayette street, is confined to her home by illness.

Mrs. Elizabeth Willmarth, West Madison avenue, has been admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Louis Perretta, Lafayette street, is reported to be improving, although still confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. William Ronk and infant son, West Cherry street, have retaurned to their home from the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Thomas Meckling, Ashland avenue, is getting along nicely at his home, having been discharged from the New Castle hospital.

Glenn Frank Report Endorsed By Cooke

G. O. P. Senatorial Candidate Makes Statement While In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 18.—Jay Cooke, Philadelphia chairman and Republican organization candidate for the U. S. senate, endorsed the Glenn Frank report today in what was construed by political observers as:

1. A step toward liberal Republicanism.

2. The answer to Allegheny County Chairman Frank Harris' declaration that Republican candidates must show progressive spirit to receive his endorsement.

Cooke was in Pittsburgh for conference with local GOP leaders, including Harris, when he was asked if he had in any way liberalized his platform, first described as "against the New Deal from A. to Izzard". He replied:

"Nobody could possibly approve of the administration of the New Deal, but since I was here there has been the Glenn Frank report."

He was asked if he approved of the Frank report and shot back:

"Sure I do, I think that it will be the Genesis of the Republican platform. I don't see how it can help it."

Daughters Find Missing Father In Philadelphia

Man Gone For Several Months Was Amnesia Victim, Fails To Recognize Daughters

(International News Service)

GLENSIDE, Pa., March 18.—Reunited with his wife and seven children by a strange twist of fate, Frank Maguire, 55-year-old carpenter and Spanish-American war veteran, today vainly tried to pierce the fog of amnesia.

Lapse of memory sent the father wandering from his home last November and down into Washington and Virginia. Meantime his family worried, knowing that he suffered lapses of memory apparently caused by a war-time skull fracture.

Last night two of his daughters were leaving a theatre in Central Philadelphia when they remembered they had a letter to mail. And there, leaning against the mailbox, was their missing father.

"Hello, dad," they shouted, "we're your daughters."

"I don't know you," answered Maguire. "Your faces are familiar, but I can't place you."

At City Hall, Maguire told of his southern journey and revealed that when he saw a bus marked "Philadelphia," he left Washington for that city. It was just an "impulse" he said.

"We're still complete strangers to him," Mrs. Maguire said today. "Oddly enough, he looks to be in better health than when he left four months ago."

Bates, Conqueror Of 'Smokey' Boxes Tonight

Boy From C. C. Camp At Ridgeway Displaces Robinson On Card

FRANKIE MORAN TO BATTLE SALTZGAVER

Surprises are not infrequent in the boxing game and when fans journey into The Arena tonight they will learn two surprises: first, that Smokey Robinson took a good licking in Erie and second that the Jefferson A. C. substituted his conqueror, Billy Bates, C.C.C. boy, of Ridgway against Jimmie Brown, McKeesport Golden Glove champion.

Smokey and Bates met in the final 12 pound bout for the championship of the Ditspatch-Herald tournament at Erie. Bates boxed rings about the Oil City lad. In fact, he pummeled Smokey so badly about the face one of his blows caused a laceration above one of Robinson's eyes.

Dick Peebles, boxing writer on the Erie Dispatch-Herald reported that Bates scored a clean-cut decision over the national junior featherweight champion and this being the case the Brown-Bates fight should be the cream of the fistic card when the fights start at 8:30 p.m.

Artie Saltzgaver, another C.C.C. featherweight from Ridgway, will fight Frankie Moran, of this city. About one year ago Artie handed a knockout to Armand Covelli of this city. This speaks well for his ability.

Como vs. Stewart

Fans have seen Johnny Como, Meadville, winner of the Erie welterweight tourney in action against some mighty good amateurs. He is carded to take on Cameron Stewart of Youngstown who will make his debut here tonight.

Tampa Kid, a tall colored lad who can fight or burlesque, will meet Johnny Chingonish, Youngstown, who knocked out Buck Chambers at Ellwood City. If "Ching" wants to fight no doubt Tampa Kid will provide him with the opportunity.

Local Boxers Listed

Russell Baxter, 145, and Mike Murphy, 175, both of this city, will fight Al Mancini of Youngstown and Joe Kripcak also of Youngstown. Joe ought to win if experience means anything. Baxter is said to be a fairly good looking amateur, according to those who have watched him train.

Harry Slater of Oil City and Jimmie Thompson of Struthers, 160, and Ben Yerkey, McKeesport and Jimmie Meyers, Struthers, 147, complete the card which will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m. under the supervision of the A. A. U. and P. A. C.

The Jefferson A. C. is staging the battles.

Kenneth Quigley Pulls 'Hat Trick'

Cleveland Badminton Flash Cleans Up In West Penn Tournament Here

ABOUT HUNDRED SHARE TOURNEY

Just in case you are a spot foggy about what the "hat trick" is in badminton perhaps we had better explain. It corresponds after a fashion to winning the national open and amateur golf titles in the United States and Great Britain, or leading the American league in hitting, fielding and stolen bases or having four aces in a stud game. In badminton it means taking every class in which you can enter.

That is just what Kenneth Quigley, willowy Cleveland city champion, did to the western Pennsylvania badminton tournament which closed Saturday night in the George Washington gym. He won the men's singles and permanent possession of the Castleton cup by wading through his opponents like a trout fisherman in a ten-inch brook. Paired with Bert Winston of Cleveland in the men's doubles he kept his pace, and paired with Mrs. C. L. Nicholls of Cleveland he did the same thing in the mixed doubles. Every match in which he played went only two games. In short he was hotter than a third alarm fire in a varnish factory.

Quigley Tournament

The tournament was Quigley and a host of other good players. By all odds it was the best tournament the association has staged since its inception both from the number of entrants and the quality of competition. The fact that Kenneth Quigley romped through is no reflection upon the other players. Listed among the men were such stars as Robert Stille, champion of Cincinnati; Russ Grant, city champion of Pittsburgh and a national YMCA champ, and a host of others.

Among the women Mrs. Barbara Duffy of Cleveland repeated her triumph of 1937 when she won The News trophy. She came through again this year and takes the trophy back to the lake city.

The battle for the ladies' doubles crown was one of the best of the tournament. Mrs. Barbara Duffy and Mrs. C. L. Nicholls of Cleveland were pitted against Rene Gooch and Dorothy Gesaman of Detroit. In the first game the Cleveland girls looked to be sure winners but folded in the second game and couldn't do anything about it in the third game.

The tournament finals ended as follows:

Men's singles, Kenneth Quigley of Cleveland won over Russ Grant of Pittsburgh, 15-5 and 15-6. In the ladies' singles Barbara Duffy of Cleveland won over Margaret Wright of Warren, O., 11-4, 11-4.

In the men's doubles Kenneth Quigley and Bert Winston of Cleveland won over Norm Atcheson and Art Schroeder of Cleveland 15-7 and 15-10. In the ladies' doubles Rene Gooch and Dorothy Gesaman of Detroit won over Barbara Duffy and Mrs. C. L. Nicholls of Cleveland 11-15, 15-6 and 15-2. In the mixed doubles Kenneth Quigley and Mrs. C. L. Nicholls defeated Margaret Wright of Warren and Ed Lewis of Youngstown, O., 15-3 and 15-11.

During the two-day tourney a more closely knit organization was perfected, directors and officers were named and incorporation papers will be asked for. Erie, Pa., was selected for the 1941 tournament.

Officers named for this year are John W. McIlwraith of New Castle, president; S. C. Carter of Pittsburgh, vice president; G. Browne Zahniser of New Castle, secretary and treasurer. With these men the following are directors: W. J. Graham of Pittsburgh, J. Paul Jordan of Pittsburgh and C. C. Fisher of Erie.

About 100 entrants took part in the tournament which meant a lot of play. The one class which always draws a flood of laughs and plenty of ribbing is the Rain Crow consolation, the trophy for which is a tin cup about two gallons in size.

The finalists this year were Dale Cleland and Al Schwartz, both of Pittsburgh. Schwartz won but only after Cleland carried him to 15-11 in the final game.

Following the tournament the badminton players joined the Townsmen at the Field club for the annual ball. The success of the tournament was due largely to the work of G. Browne Zahniser, the tournament manager, and John W. McIlwraith, the new president of the association.

The Jewels and Celtics will play a playoff game tonight in the "Y" House League at 7 o'clock. Later in the week the Panthers will meet the winners in another playoff battle. All three teams were tied for the second half title in the league. The Jewels won the first-half championship.

Sports World Ramblings

Bits of this and that—Aside from being one of the most promising gridiron prospects, Albert Piccutti is the prize classroom pupil among John Carroll's athletes. The Mahoningtown young man, who learned his first pigskin lessons at New Castle High, is the lone athlete to grace the honor roll of the Cleveland school.

To "Jiggs" Cunningham goes the distinction of turning in the top scoring feat of the season. The talented center on the Mechanical quintet of the Shelby league, Ellwood City, potted 37 points recently. Cunnigham flipped 18 field goals and a foul for good measure. He set up a new all time league record.

Brent fans want a representative in the Lawrence county league. This small mining sector, ranked as one of the hottest baseball communities in the county, is all set. Tony Luca assures all and sundry that Brent has all the requisites. Besides a $100 gift from a coal mine company, Brent has new uniforms and a good diamond.

Any day now, another Moran will crawl into the ring to make his pugilistic debut. The lad is Zach Moran, Frankie's 16-year-old brother. The newcomer seldom misses a day at the gymnasium. He is a dead ringer for Frankie. Zach, however, is not a southpaw. He weighs about 126 pounds.

Diamond stuff—"Red" Ruffing wasn't so hot as a pitcher until he became a Yank. Purchased by the Boston club for $4,000, Ruffing was a Red Soxer for six years. In 1928-29 he lost 47 games. He joined the Yanks in '30 and has been a standout since. Ruffing evidently underwent the usual transformation which occurs when a player joins the Yanks.

Joe DiMaggio's first appearance at the plate was a costly one. He swung and hit a foul tip which busted the back window of an automobile!".....Al Simmons, who is back where he started from, has one of the most enviable marks in the majors. The athletics' outfielder has an all time batting average of .337. He has blasted out 305 home runs.

Night baseball was a profitable venture for the White Sox last year. Seven night clashes lured 208,000 customers. All told, Chicago attracted 691,000 fans...To E. G.: Charley Gehringer has a major league batting average of .327. He bats left handed. Buddy Myer's major league batting mark is .304.

Gersons Defeat Polish Falcons

Gersons Take Sunday Game 44-32, Only Local Team To Beat Falcons

The Gerson basketball team did something Sunday that no other New Castle team has been able to do this year—beat the Polish Falsons. The score was 44-32. This evens up the series as the Falcons won last Friday from the Gersons at the Falcon Hall.

The Gersons trailed the first period 12-11. The end of the first half found the Jewelers ahead 20 to 17. The end of the third period it was 32-25 in favor of the Gersons. Rags Gennock and Petey Zingaro paced the Gersons scoring attack. Best for the Falcons was Eddie Koszela and Flash Wenda.

The Gerson victory is notable due to the fact that the Falcons are the City-County tourney favorites.

Sportsmen To Meet Tonight

District Attorney John G. Lamoree To Be Banquet Toastmaster

Committeemen in charge of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's banquet will meet at 8 p. m. tonight in the Y. M. C. A., according to W. Henry Rodgers, chairman. Final plans for the fete, March 28, in the Cathedral will be discussed.

It was reported today that Attorney Robert L. Wallace who has acted as toastmaster at the past 16 banquets of the association will be unable to be present this year and his role will be filled by District Attorney John G. Lamoree, a fisherman and hunter.

Church League Ends Tonight

The regular New Castle church basketball season will end tonight at the "Y" with three games being carded. The first game at 8 o'clock will find the Greek Orthodox meeting the Central Presbyterians. In the second game the First Christains meet the Epworth team. The last game of the year will find the First Presbyterians battling the St. Vitus team.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Dizzy Dean has signed a contract to return to the mound for the Chicago Cubs at a salary of $10,000, according to reports from Los Angeles today. Dean won only 13 games last year after the Cubs had paid the Cardinals $185,000 for his services.

A letter arrives today stating Carmen Costa of this city knocked out Eddie Mozart, Meadville, in two minutes and 13 seconds in Meadville Saturday night. He is a middleweight, the letter reports.

National Loop All-Stars Win

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., March 18.—National leaguers, pushed around in most of the all-star and world series baseball of recent years, today hoped the dawn of a new era was signaled by their all-star team's 2-1 victory over the American league all-stars yesterday.

Their enthusiasm was tempered, however, by the fact that the older league stars didn't get far when the opposing lineup was dominated by New York Yankees. Seven Yanks started the game, but began to be replaced in the fourth inning, when they were leading 1-0. By the 6th only one Yank remained on the field.

The game attracted 13,180 fans, an all-time record for Florida, and netted $20,000 for the Finnish relief fund. Some patrons paid as much as $50 for box seats.

Tourney Games Have Appeal

Collegiates Will Try For Second Tourney Win Tonight, Meet K. Pulaskis

TWO CLASS B GAMES ON CARD

Three more games are listed in the city-county basketball tourney at the George Washington high floor tonight. The first game, at 7:15 o'clock, will find the Fannin team, composed of former and present high school stars, battling the Mustangs of the seventh ward area. This is a class B engagement.

In the feature game on the card tonight the Collegiate team, headed by Eddie Nahas, former Slippery Rock college star, and Jimmy Dart and Tom Carey of the 1940 Slippery Rock team, will battle the K. Pulaski Big Five. The Collegiates, due to having dumped the St. Michaels team, is favored to win this one and enter the semi-finals. This is a class A game.

Indies vs. Perelmans

The third and final battle the New Castle Indies, conquerors of the fine St. Marys' team in the first round, will play the Perelman team that defeated the Church League All-Stars in the first round.

General Chairman Conn today asked that the fans be informed that the tourney tickets that sold for 50 cents are not good for the finals. The admission for the final game next Monday night will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Geneva Names Titan On All-Opponent Star Team

(Special To The News)

BEAVER FALLS, March 18—Geneva College's basketball team, after closing a season that showed ten wins and twelve losses, their best record in three years, picked two Duquesne University stars, and one player each on their all-opponent team from Carnegie Tech, W. & J. and Westminster.

Robert "Rube" Stark, likeable Carnegie Tech center, was named captain by virtue of the fact that he was the only unanimous selection. The Geneva Cabinet undergraduate publication that conducted the poll, commented upon Stark's ability, leadership and sportsmanship.

Ridl Westminster and Tidrick, W. & J., were selected as forwards with eight votes each. Ed. Milkovich and Paul Widowitz of Duquesne were assigned the guard posts with five votes each.

Eastern schools failed to place a member on either first or second team.

The choices: First team, Ridl, Westminster, and Tidrick, W. & J., forwards; Stark, Carnegie, center and captain; Milkovich and Widowitz, guards. Second team: Reese, W. & J. and Becker Duquesne, forwards; Mogus, Youngstown, center; and Biesler, Waynesburg, and Port, Pitt guards.

Fannins Advance In Pitt Tourney

Local Cagers Spill Pittsburghers, 42-21, At Pittsburgh, Sunday

Sparked by Bucci, who pocketed 15 points, the Fannins basketball team scored a 42-21 triumph over the St. Stevenson club of Pittsburgh, Saturday, in the current A. M. A. tourney.

The locals snatched the lead at the outset and never relinquished it. At halftime the Fannins sported a 20-12 edge. Thursday night at 8 o'clock, in the Centre Y. M. C. A., Pittsburgh, the Fannins meet the O. B. club of Sharpsville in a semi-final round tiff.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Hello folks . . . well it is just one week until Easter. That means that quite a few of you folks will be thinking about buying new outfits for the Easter Parade. Now it might not seem right to say this . . . we know that most of you are faithful to the old home town but there are still a few who must be reminded of the fact that it's good business to buy here. If you shop around and can't find anything to suit your facny and the local merchants can't get what you want, then we say go ahead and buy from out of town. But just to ignore the local merchants entirely is not right . . . so let's all do right by our neighbors and shop New Castle first.

* * *

In case you didn't get there in time for a dog last Saturday here are two more leads that might help you.
Robert Delancy . . . Phone 2151R . . . Fox Terrier . . . a nice dog and fine around children.
Mrs. Martha Shoaf . . . Ellwood City, R. D. No. 2 . . . small dog, fine for children.

* * *

The basketball floor is clear again at the George Washington high school and the city-county tourney will be in full swing this week. The games have been drawing large crowds and if you really want a treat be sure to see the Ellwood-Polish Falcon game Tuesday night. The proceeds from this tourney will go to the Polish-Finnish Relief Sund and the Music Council . . . both very worthy causes.

* * *

Just a little thought to keep in mind when you are doing the spring house cleaning . . . if you run across any old instruments (Musical) that you would like to give away, they would be very much appreciated by the students of the Croton School Band . . . there are some fine little musicians up there and all they need is a chance at an instrument . . . so look around maybe you can make some little heart happy.

* * *

If you are looking for someone to help with spring housecleaning . . . why not use the classified ads . . . if what you want is not already in print it takes but a few cents to tell your own story . . . hundreds have used this page and have been well repaid.

Stock Market Becomes Steady

Little Change In Prices—Lower At Opening Of Day's Market

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 18.—The stock market steadied late in the morning today, after an initial extension of last week's decline on the European peace rumors. General price averages continued a shade lower, but changes were extremely small and many representative issues were at or above previous closing levels.

Before support was met, many stock market leaders had dropped to new 1940 lows. Included were U. S. Steel, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Western Union, U. S. Rubber and Boeing, the last-named slumping more than a point.

Bethlehem was off about a point at the start, but cut its loss to a minor fraction later in the morning. U. S. Steel duplicated this performance, while Chrysler converted a ¾ loss into a small gain. General Motors wiped out a fractional decline.

Others to get behind plus signs after early hesitancy were Douglas, which jumped a point at one time, Montgomery Ward, Public Service of N. J., Kennecott, Air Reduction, Du Pont and Standard Oil of N. J.

Union Carbide slipped a point in the chemicals. Anaconda, Sears Roebuck, General Electric, Texas Corp., Goodyear, N. Y. Central and National Biscuit eased fractions.

BANQUET PLANS PROGRESSING

Have you made your plans yet to attend the seventeenth annual banquet of your association. This association is interested in every person in Lawrence county. Interested in the maintenance of our wild-life. Whether you are one who likes to go out in the fall of the season, and get yourself a bunny or two. Or one who just enjoys going out to see Mother Nature, in all her glory, with all of her wild-life. Then you should take in this banquet.

This association belongs to every such person, and for that reason, if no other, you owe it to yourself, to spend the evening of March 28 with us at the Cathedral dining room.

One of the most interesting programs has been provided for your pleasure. No long winded speakers to bore you. The matter-of-fact is only two speakers have been invited. Namely President Ross L. Leffler, of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, and Hon. Charles French, Commissioner of Pennsylvania Fisheries. Music, excellent meal, entertainment, valuable prizes, talking wild-life pictures in natural color, and everything that will be of interest to you whether you ever saw a fishing pole or gun before in your life. Get your ticket now and you won't be disappointed. Last year several hundred persons were turned away from the door, because we had all that we could handle within. The ticket sale will close March 25.

Downtown, tickets can be purchased from O. H. P. Green's office, Sporting Goods Store, Rohrer's Gun Shop, Westel's Bicycle Shop, Fervers Sporting Goods Store, Jack Gerson's Ellwood City, Harold Parker, Odd McCleary and Martin Burt, Mahoningtown, Weller's Hardware, W. Earl Horner, B. & O. R. R., John Morgan, Pennsy Shops, Bessemer, Doc. Murtl and Kenneth Griffin Grove City and vicinity, Harold Clarkson, Sharon, Seth Myers and "Skip" Buchanan. Bert Rick, is chairman of the tickets, phone 4547 James Cypher, chairman of seating arrangements.

Any group desiring to reserve a table for their group contact Jimmie at phone 4168. Tickets are going fast, already past the 600 mark, so why delay, if you intend to take in this swell banquet, contact your nearest ticket agent and have him reserve yours NOW. If you remember, last year more than 1200 people took in this affair. This year it's bigger and better in every respect.

Samuel Frank, and his aides have worked feverishly in getting the best available program, which will mean that from 6:30 p. m. at which time the dinner will be served, every single minute will be taken up, until the grand prize will be drawn, at the close of the program at — o'clock. (Your guess will be as good as ours, as to the closing time.) So you'd better get there on time, as the ladies have strict orders to start serving the dinner at 6:15 p. m. sharp. So if your potatoes are cold, don't tell me that I didn't warn you.

P. S. Don't forget the ladies are cordially invited. Why not treat the Misses, and give her a night off from cooking a big supper. Tell her we'll dine out tonight. (Of course at the Sportsmen's banquet, March 28th).

BERLIN CLAIMS ITALY MAY JOIN AT LATER DATE

Italian attitude is the most satisfactory so far as both the axis partners are concerned.

The Italo-German viewpoints are realistic and identical, it was said. Although Germany is at war and Italy non-belligereant, both are fighting for the rights of "young" nations.

"We Stand Together"

With the keynote of "come what may, we stand together," Duce and Fuehrer reached the conclusion that any future peace must be comprehensive and all-embracing, and that unless developments dictate otherwise, the war should be localized on the western front, it was said.

The Balkans, informed quarters declared, must be kept free from the menace of conflict, and in this Hitler and Mussolini concurred.

Immediate intensification of the "new military stage" inaugurated by German air raids on Scapa Flow over the week-end is anticipated, as well as a series of diplomatic coups aimed at strengthening Germany's continental status and guarding against the possibility of allied intervention in the Balkans.

The Brenner Pass meeting has "speeded up present moving events", an informed spokesman said.

"New Europe"

The "new Europe" sketched by Nazi spokesmen as the ultimate goal of warring Germany and non-belligerent Italy is one in which the seas are free and trade routes stripped of armed garrisons such as Gibraltar, Suez and Malta.

In addition, Germany's "living space" in central Europe must be assured, and her war-lost colonies returned.

It was regarded possible that there would be a sharp and significant drop in the present volume of trade between Italy and France following reaffirmation of Rome-Berlin axis solidarity. Berlin circles also felt that Spain might now come closer to Italy and Germany. The recent visit of Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop to Pope Pius made a tremendous impression on Spain, it was said.

Nazi spokesman said that President Roosevelt's speech on Saturday "was hardly contributory to peace prospects." With regard to Under-Secretary of State Sumner Welles' decision to remain longer in Rome than anticipated, it was thought likely that Mussolini asked him to defer his sailing to allow one further conversation after the Brenner meeting.

No New "Peace Offensive"

At the same time, Nazi spokesmen lent little credence to reports that the meeting marked the first stage in a new "peace offensive," holding that any such move would be impracticable at the present time.

Both Mussolini and Hitler believe, it was pointed out, that an actual test of arms must precede any steps designed to end the war before it has fairly begun, and both Germany and Italy are fully in accord on all issues of moment.

A semi-official statement described the Brenner Pass meeting in these words:

"The Fuehrer and Il Duce met to discuss questions concerning both countries.

"The meeting results from the fact that Nazi Germany today is fighting a struggle, decisive in history, against the western powers while Italy, not as a neutral but as a non-belligerent nation, simultaneously sponsors the living rights of young nations."

In Accord Says Berlin

The conversations are being carried on, according to Berlin, in the foreknowledge that Hitler and Mussolini are perfectly in accord regarding major problems, major policies and major intentions.

Thus all that is needed is a review of present affairs and a symbolic handshake attesting the vow that no matter what happens, Rome and Berlin stand by each other.

Well-informed Berlin quarters said that Hitler doubtless would summarize the European situation as follows:

1—The Scandinavian problem can be said to be solved now that Russia and Finland have concluded peace.

2—A possible element of danger has been removed by the fact that Russia, while not relinquishing her claims on Bessarabia, acknowledges the necessity of leaving the Balkan situation undisturbed at present.

3—Turkey must be weaned away from the allied camp with diplomacy, while Hungary and Yugoslavia are made to understand that southeastern Europe must remain quiet and calm.

Two Youths Held For Passing Checks

Police of Youngstown last night apprehended one James Kaine, alias George R. Maden, 21, that city, who is alleged to have printed imitation Pennsylvania Power company checks then to have passed two of them, each for $29.50, in this city, January 13. In connection with similar acts in Sharon, police of that city yesterday also arrested Paul Dewey, 21, Youngstown.

The checks were cashed here at the Book & Potter store and the Borovilos market, according to Chief of Detectives Willis G. McMullen.

Kaine has refused to waive extradition, McMullen stated.

UNION HIGH

Newsy Notes Of School As Compiled By Robert Jones

GYM EXHIBIT

Joseph Thompson and Margaret Beck, the gym and health teachers of Union high, are preparing a gym exhibition to be presented at the end of this month. The program will be given by the students of Union high, and the program will consist of tumbling, statuary acts, marching drills, dumbbell drills and different types of pyramids.

STUDENTS IN DISTRICT BAND

Jean Ann Covert and John Petrowitz have been chosen from the Union high school orchestra to go to Ambridge, Pa., for the district band. Union high has been represented in all the district choruses and orchestras this year.

W. P. A. DOING SCHOOL WORK

The W. P. A. group at Union high are cleaning the walls and the ceilings of the halls in the school. They are also repairing desks, chairs for the rooms. During school hours they have been washing the windows in the halls and have been doing other odd jobs.

PALETTE CLUB PARTY

The Palette club is having a party for the club members and for the Radio Varieties. This party will be held at Lakewood Beach after Easter vacation. About 100 members will be at the dance, after which a lunch will be served by a few of the club members.

LIBRARY CLUB

The library club is planning a trip through the New Castle free public library some time in the near future. This excursion was planned for last Friday, but the weather proved to be too bad for walking. One part of the club will go on one Friday and the other part of the club will go the following week.

TEACHERS PLAY HI-Y.

The faculty played a challenged game with the Senior Hi-Y. Friday afternoon. The faculty won, 30-22.

The teachers playing were: Herman Keppen, mechanical drawing teacher, center; Wilbur Pattison, basketball coach, guard; Harvey Mercer, a student teacher, forward; Joseph Thompson, health teacher, forward; John Susko, salesmanship teacher, guard; Leroy Rowley, musical supervisor, and Thomas Salsbury, art supervisor, were reserves.

Members of the Hi.-Y. playing were: Bill Lowers, center; Edward Reynolds, forward; Dale Kegarise, forward; Paul Allen, guard; Walter Swigart, guard.

Substitutes, Frank Koss, John Taylor and John Dougherty.

Referees were Jay G. Rudolph, supervising principal, and Joe Chiffalo, basketball captain.

Timekeeper, Walter Severa.

P. O. D. CLASSES

The "Problems of Democracy" classes have been doing some interesting things this semester, such as holding trials during class periods just as the court trials are held, the getting up of petitions by the class members, and having elections.

P. T. A. TUESDAY

Parents and teachers association will meet on Tuesday, March 19, of this week. This meeting will be conducted by Elder W. G. McCune.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR PLAY

The junior and senior play, "Heart Trouble" was presented at the Third United Presbyterian church, on the east side of New Castle.

This play was directed by Milton A. Pattison, principal of Union high, and Donald McGrew, mathematical supervisor.

STUDENT TEACHERS

The student teachers who have been teaching at Union high for the past six weeks will go back to their studies at Westminster college after finishing their student teaching at Union this week.

READING CIRCLE

The teachers of Union high school have started a reading circle among themselves. Each teacher will buy a book of current interest and at an appointed time will exchange books with each other.

This will give the teachers something to do in their spare time.

JUNIOR HI-Y.

Twenty members of the Junior Hi.-Y. took the state Bible tests last Friday which they have been preparing for the last eight weeks.

The members succsesfully passing these tests will be entitled to a very worthy reward.

Robert M. Cowher, faculty advisor of the club, has been supervising the Bible study with the aid of John Thompson, boys' works director of the Y. M. C. A.

TO GET DEGREES

Miss Elma Robinson and Miss Lois Ketterer, teachers of history in the Union township high school, are completing their graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh, and in June will receive the master of letters degrees from that institution.

Miss Ketterer and Miss Robinson will be the first teachers in Union high school to be granted such advanced degrees.

Congressman Has Reopened Office

Graham's Office Closed Several Days Because Of Death Of His Secretary

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—The Washington office of Representative Louis Graham of Beaver reopened today after being closed last week out of respect for the congressman's secretary, who died following an operation.

The secretary was Harry A. Schmoyer, a Pennsylvania man who had served various congressmen in Washington for the past 20 years. He had been ill some time, and two weeks ago underwent an operation at Emergency hospital. Death occurred last week.

Burial was in Arlington National cemetery here. Mr. Schmoyer served in the navy during the World War.
